Congress Quiet On Sub Salvage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional committees investigating the Central Intelligence Agency show little interest in opening full-scale inquiries into the partial recovery of a Soviet submarine from the bottom of the Pacific Ocean.

Public disclosure of last summer's highly classified operation raised few questions about the legality of the CIA's attempts to raise the diesel-powered sub.

Deep sea salvage operations in search of another nation's sunken vessels are acceptable under international law once the ship is given up for lost.

PICKAWAY County Sheriff's Deputy James Leaker was dispatched to check on a suspicious car today when he came to the bridge on Route 762 at Orient.

Highway workers were reinforcing the center beams on the bridge when the flagman gave Leaker the OK sign to go through.

The Deputy was halfway through the bridge when the foreman who was working from underneath the bridge began drilling up through the bridge floor and flattened the right front and rear tires of the Sheriff's cruiser.

Seek Change Of Personal Property Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The House was to vote today on a major bill with 52 sponsors — two more than needed for passage — that would make historic changes in the state's personal property tax laws.

Rep. William E. Hinig, D-96 New Philadelphia, attempting for the second time in three years to win passage, claims the measure would bring longneeded reform, and at the same time go far in the state's perennial search for new and expanded industry.

The measure, over a period of eight years, would reduce assessment rates on personal property from the present 50 per cent or more of the value down to 35 per cent — the same rate as for real property — providing "equity that is long overdue," says Hinig.

He noted that the main advantage to industry would be their reduced assessments on inventories and equipment.

Some school districts could wind up with less tax revenue under the measure, however, and the House Ways and Means Committee deleted from the bill some complicated language that sought to preclude that possibility.

The Ohio Education Association said it would oppose the measure unless the language was restored.

Hinig and other sponsors claim the industrial expansion incentives in the bill would attract enough new industry to make up the lost revenue.

The 88 counties are in the process of setting uniform 35 per cent real property assessment rates, required under a controversial Ohio Supreme Court decision several years ago. Before then, variations in assessments ranged from a low of about 21 per cent to a high of about 44 per cent.

The pending bill would lower assessment rates on inventories to a uniform 43 per cent in 1976 and continue lowering rates until they reach 35 per cent in 1983.

Furniture and fixture assessment rates would drop to 50 per cent next year and continue down in steps of two to four per cent a year.

All other personal property would start at 40 per cent in 1976 and be reduced an average of four per cent a year. The bill doesn't affect utilities.

Cookie Sales To Resume

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Seal of Ohio Girl Scout Council said Wednesday it was resuming distribution and sale of its "thin mint" cookies after laboratory tests determined they were safe for consumption.

The council, which covers 16 counties in central and southern Ohio, had halted sales of the cookies after glass particles were found in one box.

The state Agriculture Department announced Wednesday its tests had determined that the glass slivers in the one box was an isolated incident.

"We found no evidence of any glass particles in any of the boxes we checked, except in the single box which caused the initial consumer complaint to our department," said Roland Jenkins, chief of the department's Foods, Dairies and Drugs Division.

He said chemists checked for glass particles in 34 boxes of cookies and found nothing.

"Even with the widespread publicity this investigation has received, we have not received any complaints from consumers who have found particles in thin mint cookies which they suspected as glass," Jenkins said.

Nancy Gates of the Girl Scout council said the decision was made to resume the cookie sales after both the agriculture department and the manufacturer gave assurances that the cookies "are free of foreign substances and safe for consumption."

Sales Tax Exemption Awaits Approval

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A supercharged bill to temporarily suspend the four per cent sales tax on new auto and trailer sales awaited final legislative action in the House today.

House Speaker Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D-89 New Boston, said the Rules Committee may bring it up for an immediate floor vote.

In any case the House will dispose of it "one way or the other" by next Tuesday. Auto dealers with prospective customers want a quick answer, he said.

At the same time, the House scheduled a vote today on another, more far reaching tax proposal. It would reduce personal property tax assessment rates gradually over an eight-year span until they level off at 35 per cent of true value—the same as real property rates.

Some see the personal property measure as one that would boost industrial development more than any other proposal before the legislature by giving industry a tax break on machinery and inventories, now assessed at upwards of 50 per cent.

Some lawmakers marvelled at the speed at which the auto sales tax bill whizzed through the Senate earlier this week, then popped out of the House Ways and Means Committee Wednesday after only one hearing.

"I never dreamed it ever would get out of the Senate," said Rep. Frederick N. Young, R-38 Dayton, ranking Republican member of the House Finance Committee. He joined GOP administration budget planners in saying the measure would deprive the state of about $31 million in tax revenues before the end of the state's fiscal year June 30.

"It could ruin the chances of funding welfare until the end of this fiscal biennium, and it could mean payless

Lost Vietnam Provinces May Increase To 10

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — The number of provinces abandoned or lost by the South Vietnamese government rose to seven today, and at least three more may be given up, government officials disclosed.

The territory conceded to the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong includes Hue, the former imperial capital on the northern coast and a city of 200,000 people.

Officials said the latest additions to the list of lost provinces are Binh Long, only 60 miles north of Saigon, and Thua Thien, on the northern coast. Hue is the capital of Thua Thien.

The abandonment of Quang Tri, the country's northernmost province, was reported Wednesday. Three in the Central Highlands — Kontum, Pleiku and Darlac — were given up early this week, and Phuoc Long, east of Binh Long, was overrun by the North Vietnamese in January.

The seven provinces total about 13,000 square miles, a fifth of South Vietnam's total area and a territory slightly smaller than Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island combined.

The population of the seven provinces totals about 1.7 million, just under 10 per cent of South Vietnam's total. Hundreds of thousands of these are fleeing from Communist control and will put an added strain on the Saigon government's already-huge economic burden.

President Nguyen Van Thieu in a five-minute radio address today acknowledged the abandonment of Kontum and Pleiku only. He said they were given up without a fight because government forces in the highlands were outnumbered 4-to-1 and because of the limitation of American aid.

Thieu charged that North Vietnam had launched a general offensive across South Vietnam and committed 19 divisions (about 115,000 men) to it. He said Hanoi had sent five of its eight strategic reserve divisions across the border in January and February to join this force.

NATO Alliance Faltering As Reds Nibble At Edges

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Atlantic Alliance leaders may be at the point of asking the diplomatic equivalent of whether the sky is falling.

Soviet chiefs might feel justified basking in a glow of mutual congratulation.

Even a casual rundown suggests that things are coming apart for American and North Atlantic Treaty Organization policy. In Indochina it looks like the vast American investment of blood and wealth is headed toward the drain. In Europe, events in Portugal, Greece, Turkey, Cyprus and elsewhere are badly fraying NATO's hems. The Middle East remains resistant to Americans' efforts for a new step toward stability.

From a Washington standpoint, dismal would seem the appropriate word for a procession of recent developments. The same developments seem to produce a tone of optimistic expectancy on the Communist side as the Soviet Union renews its pressure for a 35-nation summit extravaganza this summer.

—Vietnam. South Vietnam is being contracted and splintered. President Nguyen Van Thieu's loss of six provinces and the possibility of more to come could mean the South soon will be cut in half and the regime ruling only enclaves around Saigon and Mekong Delta cities.

—Cambodia. South Vietnam's next-door neighbor is nearing the climax of a five-year struggle. A cave-in by Lon Nol's government under the pressure of the Communist-led Khmer Rouge would signal the final chapter, with probably stinging psychological impact in Saigon.

—NATO West. Portugal, NATO's western anchor, teeters at the edge of far-left military regime. It's not difficult to fathom why the Portuguese Communist party representative at the current Hungarian party congress got more applause than anyone except Soviet chief Leonid Brezhnev. Communists in Portugal are moving along textbook lines toward their goals.

—NATO East. Greece and Turkey, on NATO's eastern flank, remain hostile to one another and estranged from the Americans because of the Cyprus crisis which, in turn, is not noticeably susceptible to American diplomatic efforts. The alliance, as a consequence, has been weakened and may be further damaged. In Italy, the strong Communist party sounds increasingly confident of wedging into the government, a development that would make Italy, at best, a doubtful ally.

ventories, creating a demand for new cars and parts. Ohio is the nation's leading producer of parts and a top producer of glass, rubber, and similar needed materials, he said.

Riffe, although saying he is "not too hot" personally over the measure, said he thinks the estimates of revenue losses are "too high", and predicted they would be from $16 million to $20 million. Like his Democratic counterpart in the Senate, the speaker said the bill isn't a question "of party policy. I'm not going to tell anyone how to vote."

Thomas Moyer, Rhodes' executive assistant, said Wednesday that the governor "hasn't made a decision on what he will do" if the bill reaches him.

A factor Rhodes would consider is that if both houses pass the emergency act with the required two-thirds majority, there would be ample votes to override a veto, since only a three-fifths vote is required.

Thieu's government announced the nightly curfew in the Saigon area had been advanced two hours, from midnight to 10 p.m. "because of the present emergency situation and security requirements."

It was the first such extension of the curfew since the big North Vietnamese Eastern offensive in 1972. But some South Vietnamese officers said it was a precautionary measure and that they saw no threat of an immediate major attack on the capital.

Hanoi Thinks U.S. To Abandon Viets

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Vietnam's current offensive was launched in the belief that the United States is unwilling or unable to give South Vietnam the military aid necessary to survive, according to an authoritative Hanoi journal.

This assessment in Hoc Tap magazine supports Ford administration contentions that a congressional cutback in U.S. aid has encouraged Hanoi to intensify its attack.

According to the article, as translated from Vietnamese by U.S. government employees, the offensive capability of the Saigon forces has declined steadily since Congress began cutting military assistance.

"This situation indicates that the bomb and ammunition reserves of the puppet troops have decreased and that they are encountering great difficulties in fuel and in the maintenance, repair and use of various types of aircraft, tanks, combat vessels and heavy weapons," the article said.

The writer, Truong Chi Cuong, then stated that South Vietnamese given up and those adjoining. There were no reports of any attempts by the North Vietnamese or Viet Cong to interfere with them.

Highway 1, the country's main north-south road along the coast, was jammed south of Hue as frightened civilians made the 40-mile journey to Da Nang, the country's second largest city.

U.S. officials said four American government employees working in Hue had been evacuated, but four American civilians there had not been located yet.

President Nguyen Van Thieu's only hope for survival is continued American assistance. "However, the U.S. imperialists are encountering unprecedented, great difficulties at home and abroad," he wrote.

"The fact that the U.S. Congress has reduced by one half the military aid requested by the Pentagon for Thieu in the 1974-75 fiscal year, and by 20 per cent the economic aid compared with the preceding fiscal year, clearly reflects the difficult, multi-faceted situation now confronting the U.S. administration."

At the same time, the article continued, the Viet Cong and its allies have dealt Saigon "powerful offensive and counter-offensive blows."

Hanoi's assessment of the South Vietnamese weakness was supported Wednesday by State Department press officer Robert Funseth.

He told reporters that a major factor in Saigon's decision to give up several provinces in the Central Highlands and northern part of South Vietnam "is the reduction of air and ground mobility as the result of the inadequate level of U.S. military aid."

President Ford has asked Congress to add $300 million to the $700 million already appropriated in military aid for Saigon in this fiscal year, and $1.4 billion for the 12 months beginning July 1.

Without that level of aid of the next two or three years, South Vietnam is likely to fall, according to the administration.

Temporary Workers Out

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Mayor Ralph J. Perk and his cabinet must remove 1,000 temporary workers from the city payroll immediately or face contempt of court charges, Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Judge Daniel O. Corrigan ruled Wednesday.

Corrigan, saying officials "steadfastly refused" to follow his orders since the first of the year in the dispute over austerity program furlough plans, also ordered 750 of the workers rehired immediately on a 30-day emergency employment basis.

Corrigan set a deadline of Monday. Officials declined comment beyond saying the orders were being studied.

Perk and George Forbes, city council president, were preparing legislation that would grant civil service certification to the workers. Forbes said council rules would be suspended in Monday night's meeting in order to handle the proposed measure immediately.

Congress Quiet On Sub Salvage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional committees investigating the Central Intelligence Agency show little interest in opening full-scale inquiries into the partial recovery of a Soviet submarine from the bottom of the Pacific Ocean.

Public disclosure of last summer's highly classified operation raised few questions about the legality of the CIA's attempts to raise the diesel-powered sub.

Deep sea salvage operations in search of another nation's sunken vessels are acceptable under international law once the ship is given up for lost.

ROUNDTOWN

PICKAWAY County Sheriff's Deputy James Leaker was dispatched to check on a suspicious car today when he came to the bridge on Route 762 at Orient.

Highway workers were reinforcing the center beams on the bridge when the flagman gave Leaker the OK sign to go through.

The Deputy was halfway through the bridge when the foreman who was working from underneath the bridge began drilling up through the bridge floor and flattened the right front and rear tires of the Sheriff's cruiser.

WLWC Channel 4 television has been distributing buttons throughout Central Ohio coined with the phrase "Think Positive" ... Hugh DeMoss, news director of the Columbus station recently received a letter of positive thinking from a Roundtown resident.

Gary Dean, Circleville High School Tiger Band Director, told DeMoss that in the five years he has been director of the award-winning organization, the "Tiger Band" has always been "thinking positive" ...

Dean concluded that "in these times of difficulty, turmoil and crisis we will have your staff, your viewers and the Tiger Band 'thinking positive'."

Sales Tax Exemption Awaits Approval

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A supercharged bill to temporarily suspend the four per cent sales tax on new auto and trailer sales awaited final legislative action in the House today.

House Speaker Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D-89 New Boston, said the Rules Committee may bring it up for an immediate floor vote.

In any case the House will dispose of it "one way or the other" by next Tuesday. Auto dealers with prospective customers want a quick answer, he said.

At the same time, the House scheduled a vote today on another, more far reaching tax proposal. It would reduce personal property tax assessment rates gradually over an eight-year span until they level off at 35 per cent of true value—the same as real property rates.

Some see the personal property measure as one that would boost industrial development more than any other proposal before the legislature by giving industry a tax break on machinery and inventories, now assessed at upwards of 50 per cent.

Some lawmakers marvelled at the speed at which the auto sales tax bill whizzed through the Senate earlier this week, then popped out of the House Ways and Means Committee Wednesday after only one hearing.

"I never dreamed it ever would get out of the Senate," said Rep. Frederick N. Young, R-38 Dayton, ranking Republican member of the House Finance Committee. He joined GOP administration budget planners in saying the measure would deprive the state of about $31 million in tax revenues before the end of the state's fiscal year 30.

"It could ruin the chances of funding welfare until the end of this fiscal biennium, and it could mean payless paydays for state employees," Young warned.

He said he also agrees with Gov. James A. Rhodes' tax commissioner, Gerald S. Collins, that the tax suspension—until June 30—"may not produce a single new job."

Sen. Robert D. Freeman, D-29 Canton, and other Democratic sponsors found an unlikely ally in Rep. Robert E. Netzel, R-83, a traditional conservative under pressure from auto dealers and other constituents back home for at least a final decision by the legislature.

Netzel asserted the state will end its fiscal year with a cash "carryover" of at least $200 million "while all we've ever needed in the past is $125 million to $150 million." The eight-term veteran also contended the administration "can find the money."

Freeman, boosting his bill in the House committee, reiterated his belief it can help wipe out big car lot inventories, creating a demand for new cars and parts. Ohio is the nation's leading producer of parts and a top producer of glass, rubber, and similar needed materials, he said.

Riffe, although saying he is "not too hot" personally over the measure, said he thinks the estimates of revenue losses are "too high", and predicted they would be from $16 million to $20 million. Like his Democratic counterpart in the Senate, the speaker said the bill isn't a question "of party policy. I'm not going to tell anyone how to vote."

Thomas Moyer, Rhodes' executive assistant, said Wednesday that the governor "hasn't made a decision on what he will do" if the bill reaches him.

A factor Rhodes would consider is that if both houses pass the emergency act with the required two-thirds majority, there would be ample votes to override a veto, since only a three-fifths vote is required.

NATO Alliance Faltering As Reds Nibble At Edges

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Atlantic Alliance leaders may be at the point of asking the diplomatic equivalent of whether the sky is falling.

Soviet chiefs might feel justified basking in a glow of mutual congratulation.

Even a casual rundown suggests that things are coming apart for American and North Atlantic Treaty Organization policy. In Indochina it looks like the vast American investment of blood and wealth is headed toward the drain. In Europe, events in Portugal, Greece, Turkey, Cyprus and elsewhere are badly fraying NATO's hems. The Middle East remains resistant to Americans' efforts for a new step toward stability.

From a Washington standpoint, dismal would seem the appropriate word for a procession of recent developments. The same developments seem to produce a tone of optimistic expectancy on the Communist side as the Soviet Union renews its pressure for a 35-nation summit extravaganza this summer.

—Vietnam. South Vietnam is being contracted and splintered. President Nguyen Van Thieu's loss of six provinces and the possibility of more to come could mean the South soon will be cut in half and the regime ruling only enclaves around Saigon and Mekong Delta cities.

—Cambodia. South Vietnam's next-door neighbor is nearing the climax of a five-year struggle. A cave-in by Lon Nol's government under the pressure of the Communist-led Khmer Rouge would signal the final

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market turned upward today, pulling gradually out of a two-day slide attributed to profit taking.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 1.72 at 771.20, and gainers took a slight lead over losers in moderate trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The talk on Wall Street focused on the report from Robert W. Sarnoff, chairman of RCA Corp., that a minute electronic device had been developed that had produced significant gasoline economy improvement in tests by major automakers.

RCA, the most active issue on the Big Board, had jumped 3% to 19 when trading in it was halted because of a heavy influx of orders.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index rose .37 to 81.18.

Planning Commission Reviews 2 Requests For Modification

Pickaway County Planning and Zoning commission Tuesday discussed two requests for modification of the county's subdivision regulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Endicott of the Justice Subdivision, requested permission to divide an existing lot in half. Frontage of the two lots would then be less than the minimum required where there is no water or sewage available.

Originally, the Pickaway County Board of Health granted a septic tank permit, thinking the lots conformed to the regulations. The permit was subsequently rescinded. The planning commission decided not to take any action until a complete report is made

Rhodes Legislative Plans In Doubt Before Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The legislative health of Gov. James A. Rhodes' four economic recovery programs was in doubt Wednesday in the absence of any signs of compromise between Rhodes and Democratic leaders.

Senate Majority Leader Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Akron, acknowledged that no action was likely this week in the upper chamber.

"He wants all four issues, all at the same time, in substantially the same form," Ocasek said of Rhodes.

The Republican governor said in his state of the state message to the legislature last week that any compromise must recognize that "these four programs are dependent on each other." He reiterated he would take his program to the people by petition if the legislature didn't act.

The main stumbling block is Rhodes' insistence on a sales tax increase to find a $2.5 billion capital improvements bond issue for cities. A Senate committee amendment which scrapped the sales tax and replaced it with an increase in the state income tax, helped precipitate the silent fund.

on the feasibility of an additional septic tank.

A request permitting the sale of a lot with no frontage was declined. The 5,099 acre interior lot could be reached only by an easement over adjoining property. The board of health report also noted that soils in the area of the lot were such that it was impossible for a septic tank to function properly.

The board reviewed a proposal by the Ohio Department of Natural Resources to purchase property adjacent to A. W. Marion State Park and went on record as recommending the purchase.

Thomas J. Moyer, Rhodes' executive assistant, said Wednesday the governor was willing "to compromise on the wording of the (proposed ballot) resolutions."

The main stumbling block is disagreement between Rhodes and Ocasek over the proposed increase in the state sales tax to fund a $2.5 billion capital improvements bond issue for cities.

When the Senate Finance Committee scrapped the sales tax and replaced it with an income tax increase during the waning hours of the March 5 deadline, last-minute negotiations broke down and all four resolutions missed the June ballot.

Ocasek and House Speaker Vernal G. Riffe Jr. D-89 New Boston, were unable to put a package together because of a disagreement over the income tax adjustment made by the Senate committee.

Rep. Arthur Wilkowski, D-46 Toledo, who is sponsoring a bill to change the date of the June primary, said Wednesday his bill could be amended to move the primary to as late as Aug. 5.

Shepherd UM Experiences Mission

Thirty Lay Witnesses visited Good Shepherd United Methodist Church March 14-16 for a weekend Lay Witness Mission coordinated by Verlin Marburger of Westerville.

Team members arrived from Zanesville, Marion, Westerville, Columbus, Hallsville, Pleasant Hill and Morgantown, W. Va., sharing the theme, "God Loves You and I Love You".

The weekend meeting opened with a carry-in dinner with the congregation breaking into small discussion groups. The youth were directed by Ed Green and the children by Mrs. Marburger.

Several homes in the area were opened to the visiting laypersons and members of the congregation Saturday morning for a coffee hour.

Members returned to the church Saturday evening for a fellowship and carry-in dinner, followed by the small discussion groups and a time of rededication.

The Sunday morning service was under the direction of mission coordinator Verlin Marburger, with mission team members conducting each of the Sunday School classes.

The team members left that afternoon after the noon meal, but the effects of their lives were still present with the local congregation.

An evaluation service was held Sunday evening with Good Shepherd members sharing and rededicating their lives to a more purposeful life.

One Fourth Of State School Money To Be Available This Week

COLUMBUS — State Representative Myrl H. Shoemaker (D-Bourneville), 88th House District, House Finance Chairman announced today that one-fourth of the money appropriated in his House Bill 81 will be released to local school districts later this week.

Shoemaker's bill passed into law without the Governor's signature last month, appropriated $91.3 million in temporary financial aid to local school districts for the 1974-75 school year.

Walkout By Postmen Postponed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's letter carriers are postponing a strike threatened for this month over a proposed new delivery system designed to increase efficiency.

The 200,000-member National Association of Letter Carriers postponed the walkout indefinitely because it said the U.S. Postal Service has delayed putting into effect the controversial system, known as the Kokomo plan.

The union had made preparations for a strike this month in the belief that the Postal Service would decide then whether to put the plan into effect.

However, the Postal Service says it never planned to decide this month on implementation of the Kokomo plan and that the union misinterpreted an agreement last fall to discuss the plan "on or after March 1."

Testing of the plan will continue in Kokomo, Ind., and Portland, Ore., according to Jim Braughton, director of delivery services for the Postal Service.

However, additional tests planned for Providence, R.I., have been cancelled, Braughton said. Union members in Providence had threatened a wildcat strike if the plan were tried there.

Under the plan, formally known as the Letter Carrier Route Evaluation System, mail routes would be reshuffled on the basis of computerized measurements of such factors as number of letters delivered, miles walked, number of stair steps, doors and gates on each route.

The funds represent an additional $40 per pupil increase to all eligible districts in Ohio, and will come from a projected state revenue surplus.

Rep. Shoemaker stated that the appropriations will be made on a quarterly basis. The distribution of the money will be left to the discretion of the local school districts.

In closing, Rep. Shoemaker commented that checks will be mailed March 21 and the districts should receive them during the week of the 24th. The school districts and amounts of this appropriation within Pickaway County are as follows:

1/4 of $40 per pupil allowance
Circleville City	$32,860.10
Logan Elm Local	23,405.00
Teays Valley Local	27,533.80
Westfall Local	18,720.00

The Pickaway County School Board will receive $3,612.

The joint vocational school for Pickaway and Ross counties will receive $3,502.50.

Planning Commission Reviews 2 Requests For Modification

Pickaway County Planning and Zoning commission Tuesday discussed two requests for modification of the county's subdivision regulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Endicott of the Justice Subdivision, requested permission to divide an existing lot in half. Frontage of the two lots would then be less than the minimum required where there is no water or sewage available.

Originally, the Pickaway County Board of Health granted a septic tank permit, thinking the lots conformed to the regulations. The permit was subsequently rescinded. The planning commission decided not to take any action until a complete report is made on the feasibility of an additional septic tank.

A request permitting the sale of a lot with no frontage was declined. The 5.099 acre interior lot could be reached only by an easement over adjoining property. The board of health report also noted that soils in the area of the lot were such that it was impossible for a septic tank to function properly.

The board reviewed a proposal by the Ohio Department of Natural Resources to purchase property adjacent to A. W. Marion State Park and went on record as recommending the purchase.

Rhodes Legislative Plans In Doubt Before Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The legislative health of Gov. James A. Rhodes' four economic recovery programs was in doubt Wednesday in the absence of any signs of compromise between Rhodes and Democratic leaders.

Senate Majority Leader Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Akron, acknowledged that no action was likely this week in the upper chamber.

"He wants all four issues, all at the same time, in substantially the same form," Ocasek said of Rhodes.

The Republican governor said in his state of the state message to the legislature last week that any compromise must recognize that "these four programs are dependent on each other." He reiterated he would take his program to the people by petition if the legislature didn't act.

The main stumbling block is Rhodes' insistence on a sales tax increase to find a $2.5 billion capital improvements bond issue for cities. A Senate committee amendment which scrapped the sales tax and replaced it with an increase in the state income tax, helped precipitate the silent fund.

Thomas J. Moyer, Rhodes' executive assistant, said Wednesday the governor was willing "to compromise on the wording of the (proposed ballot) resolutions."

The main stumbling block is disagreement between Rhodes and Ocasek over the proposed increase in the state sales tax to fund a $2.5 billion capital improvements bond issue for cities.

When the Senate Finance Committee scrapped the sales tax and replaced it with an income tax increase during the waning hours of the March 5 deadline, last-minute negotiations broke down and all four resolutions missed the June ballot.

Ocasek and House Speaker Vernal G. Riffe Jr. D-39 New Boston, were unable to put a package together because of a disagreement over the income tax adjustment made by the Senate committee.

Rep. Arthur Wilkowski, D-46 Toledo, who is sponsoring a bill to change the date of the June primary, said Wednesday his bill could be amended to move the primary to as late as Aug. 5.

Shepherd UM Experiences Mission

Thirty Lay Witnesses visited Good Shepherd United Methodist Church March 14-16 for a weekend Lay Witness Mission coordinated by Verlin Marburger of Westerville.

Team members arrived from Zanesville, Marion, Westerville, Columbus, Hallsville, Pleasant Hill and Morgantown, W. Va., sharing the theme, "God Loves You and I Love You".

The weekend meeting opened with a carry-in dinner with the congregation breaking into small discussion groups.

The youth were directed by Ed Green and the children by Mrs. Marburger.

Several homes in the area were opened to the visiting laypersons and members of the congregation Saturday morning for a coffee hour.

Members returned to the church Saturday evening for a fellowship and carry-in dinner, followed by the small discussion groups and a time of rededication.

The Sunday morning service was under the direction of mission coordinator Verlin Marburger, with mission team members conducting each of the Sunday School classes.

The team members left that afternoon after the noon meal, but the effects of their lives were still present with the local congregation.

An evaluation service was held Sunday evening with Good Shepherd members sharing and rededicating their lives to a more purposeful life.

One Fourth Of State School Money To Be Available This Week

COLUMBUS — State Representative Myrl H. Shoemaker (D-Bourneville), 88th House District), House Finance Chairman announced today that one-fourth of the money appropriated in his House Bill 81 will be released to local school districts later this week.

Shoemaker's bill passed into law without the Governor's signature last month, appropriated $91.3 million in temporary financial aid to local school districts for the 1974-75 school year.

Walkout By Postmen Postponed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's letter carriers are postponing a strike threatened for this month over a proposed new delivery system designed to increase efficiency.

The 200,000-member National Association of Letter Carriers postponed the walkout indefinitely because it said the U.S. Postal Service has delayed putting into effect the controversial system, known as the Kokomo plan.

The union had made preparations for a strike this month in the belief that the Postal Service would decide then whether to put the plan into effect.

However, the Postal Service says it never planned to decide this month on implementation of the Kokomo plan and that the union misinterpreted an agreement last fall to discuss the plan "on or after March 1."

Testing of the plan will continue in Kokomo, Ind., and Portland, Ore., according to Jim Braughton, director of delivery services for the Postal Service.

However, additional tests planned for Providence, R.I., have been cancelled, Braughton said. Union members in Providence had threatened a wildcat strike if the plan were tried there.

Under the plan, formally known as the Letter Carrier Route Evaluation System, mail routes would be reshuffled on the basis of computerized measurements of such factors as number of letters delivered, miles walked, number of stair steps, doors and gates on each route.

The funds represent an additional $40 per pupil increase to all eligible districts in Ohio, and will come from a projected state revenue surplus.

Rep. Shoemaker stated that the appropriations will be made on a quarterly basis. The distribution of the money will be left to the discretion of the local school districts.

In closing, Rep. Shoemaker commented that checks will be mailed March 21 and the districts should receive them during the week of the 24th. The school districts and amounts of this appropriation within Pickaway County are as follows:

1/4 of $40 per pupil allowance
Circleville City	$32,860.10
Logan Elm Local	23,405.00
Teays Valley Local	27,533.80
Westfall Local	18,720.00

The Pickaway County School Board will receive $3,612.

The joint vocational school for Pickaway and Ross counties will receive $3,502.50.

INTERNATIONAL DEMOLAY WEEK

MARCH 16 to 23

56th Anniversary of DeMolay

The Order Of DeMolay

Building better citizens out of teenage boys is the goal of the Order of DeMolay, an international youth organization founded on March 18, 1919 in Kansas City, Mo., by Frank S. Land and nine teenage youths.

The organization was named for Jacques DeMolay, the last Grand Master of the Knights Templars, who was burned at the stake by King Phillip of France on March 18, 1314, as a martyr to loyalty and toleration. Today, members of DeMolay strive to carry on the fine ideals of which DeMolay gave his life — loyalty and service to God and fellow men.

DeMolay does not attempt to take the place of the home or church, but rather supplement them. The organization's purpose is to offer the teenage boy of today:

1. A wholesome occupation for his spare time
2. Worth-while associates
3. The best of environment
4. An interesting and complete program of all-around youth development.

THE YOUTH MOVEMENT THAT

BUILDS CHARACTER and LEADERS for TOMORROW

An Invitation with a Promise

- The order's selectivity makes your admission a testimonial to your good character and fitness.
- You will belong to a worldwide brotherhood of which nearly three million young men have become members.
- Your membership will automatically enlist the commendation of the leaders of your community as one who seeks out proper companionship and activities.
- You will immediately have a strong tie of mutual interest with hundreds of thousands of other DeMolays in cities and towns located all over the world.
- Whether in the armed forces, away at college, or merely on a trip, wherever you go you will always find warm-hearted DeMolay friends and brothers ready to help you in any way possible.
- A wide variety of chapter activities in social affairs, civic events, athletics and many other areas will provide you with worthwhile occupation of your spare time.
- Your membership will provide you with a wholesome environment and association.
- You will be given the opportunity to achieve recognition by earning awards and other honors.
- The DeMolay teachings and ideals will help to make you a better son, a better citizen, and a better friend.
- The benefits you will receive from DeMolay cannot be measured in dollars and cents, but instead must be measured in those traits and qualities of character that will remain with you for life.

A Page Of Opinion

Out Of Sight

If one assumes current costs of goods and services are a base from which future costs will build, projections of future costs zoom into the stratosphere. Exactly that has happened to the cost of higher education, as projected in the article in Business Week magazine.

Parents of current college attenders already hard-pressed to meet the expenditures will receive little solace by learning that projected costs 10 years hence will be nearly $35,000 for four years of college in a public-supported institution.

Or, if you prefer, $61,000 in a private school. It may work out that way, assuming all the inflationary factors in today's economy hold steady. But don't bet on it. Chances are good that long before a bachelor degree costs a king's ransom, some major innovations will come to the campus.

One of them already has. A compelling factor in the rapid growth of community colleges is the cost advantage they enjoy simply by omitting a large part of the overhead.

Smokey's New Pal

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — People . . . Places

The Interior Department, which can be more whimsical than the rest of our government agencies, has come up with a mythical companion for Smokey Bear. The character's name is Johnny Horizon, who looks like a cross between the two fine Republicans Barry Goldwater and John Wayne. He wears a broadbrimmed, lived-in Stetson which, unlike Smokey's crazy hat, fits him.

Smokey has taught untold millions of American campers to douse their fires before moving on to the next arson opportunity in our national parks. (He has been sulking since learning from one group of naturalists that fires in some cases are good for our forests.) But Johnny Horizon looks full of good nature and natural vitamins as he goes about his crusade. He has no reason to sulk.

Johnny's assignment, handed to him by Secretary of Interior Rogers C. D. Morton, is a modest one: "Clean Up America for Our 200th Birthday." His cleancut image will be tacked to trees and fences throughout the entire range of the national parks system, mini-parks, and other remaining patches of earth that have somehow avoided being covered with concrete. He has sworn to "prevent litter, minimize pollution, clean up our air, water and land and use our natural resources wisely."

Good for Johnny.

A handsome handout from the Department indicates that Johnny will have solid support. He will be following guidelines laid down by President Nixon who said during his interrupted tenure:

"We must realize that each individual must take the responsibility for looking after his own home and workplace. These daily surroundings are the environment where most Americans spend most of their time. They reflect people's pride in themselves and their consideration for their communities . . . Unless the people have a deep commitment to the new values and a clear understanding of the new values and a clear understanding of the new problems, all our laws and program and spending will avail little . . . The building of a better environment will require in the long term a citizenry that is both deeply concerned and fully informed."

The bulletin from the Department quotes another distinguished booster:

"After looking through the Johnny Horizon '76 information kit, I found it to be a very ingenious way to call to the attention of the public the need to clean up our country." Congressman Wilbur Mills.

I find most books too easy to put down. But there is something compelling, yea even hypnotizing, about Bert Bacharach's "How to Do Almost Everything," just published in paperback form by Popular Library. I don't get the meaning of my friend's use of the word

"ALMOST," unless he refers to the fact that no place in the manual does he tell one how to make a MIRV hydrogen bomb warhead.

But everything else that man needs to know is there:

"It takes the pelts of five rabbits to supply enough fur felt for one hat. (Ten for Bella Abzug?) So put yours away in a box for the summer instead of letting it deteriorate open on a shelf.

"In getting a new suit fitted, put all the stuff in the pockets that you usually carry. This will ensure a proper fit after alteration. (But what does Superman do when he gets his new leotard?)

"Never pick up a cat by the nape of the neck. Mother cats do it, but only to their babies. The proper method provides support for hindquarters. (Remember Bert, you said it. I didn't.)

Business World

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The same emigration amendment to the U.S. Trade Act of 1974 that led to a rift with the Soviets might also be hampering the development of trade with the People's Republic of China.

Moreover, say some officials involved in U.S.-China trade, it might also delay settlement of a dispute involving U.S. assets of $200 million "frozen" by mainland China and more than $80 million of Chinese assets here.

Christopher Phillips, president of the National Council for U.S.-China Trade, said that in some respects an almost impossible situation is presented but that he remains hopeful.

The amendment stipulates, among other things, that certain nations cannot receive "most favored nation" status regarding tariffs or obtain U.S. government credits if they impede emigration rights of their citizens.

The Soviets viewed this amendment, sponsored by Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., as an intrusion into their domestic affairs, and there are fears the mainland Chinese might make a similar interpretation.

"The Chinese are very sensitive of limitations on their freedom," said Phillips, whose organization includes more than 250 American companies and is supported by Washington as a focal point of U.S.-Sino trade.

Until the emigration issue is faced and resolved, the Chinese will continue to receive discriminatory tariff treatment of their exports to the United States. It means their goods will sell at a competitive disadvantage.

"It's a problem," Phillips said, "because the Chinese themselves are not begging for MFN status. Officially they say it is entirely an internal matter of the U.S. government."

But in private talks, said Phillips, who prior to taking his current position

"Tar or chewing gum on a dog's coat can be removed by application of an ice cube to the spot. This hardens the substances and makes it easy to remove. (Or break that sloppy mutt of his habit of smoking and chewing.)

"You can sometimes fix a small dent on your car body by forcing a plumber's plunger against the spot. The suction can restore the original shape. (Then leave the plunger in that position and use it to honk with.)

"Mix horseradish with tuna fish. (Please, Bert, I'm drinking.)

"Mix hamburger with crumbled ginger snaps. (But first sell your stock in McDonald's.)

"Pour a cup of sour cream with one sauteed chopped onion over cooked Brussels Sprouts. (And take the next bus to Walla Walla.)

held ambassadorial rank as deputy representative of the United States to the United Nations, the Chinese make their displeasure clear.

The matter isn't entirely economic either, Phillips said. "They feel it is politics, too. They resent discriminatory tariffs as not being in the context of mutually beneficial trade," a condition under which trade relations were reopened.

Said Phillips in an interview: "They consider it an unfriendly act not consistent with the Shanghai Communiqué," a joint Sino-U.S. statement of Feb. 28, 1972, setting conditions and stating position on trade renewal.

Housing Cost Skyrockets In Alaska

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — Construction of the transAlaska oil pipeline is bringing big money to this town. It is also bringing big headaches for persons looking for a place to live.

Consider these real estate listings:

—Two rooms and two five-gallon water jugs for $500 a month.

—An unfinished home, without water, for $700 a month.

—A hallway converted into an apartment for $300 a month.

"People just want the money from the pipeline," says a woman whose family is househunting. "My husband isn't even affiliated with it. People are renting anything and renters will give anything for it just to have a place to call home."

She said she and her husband and their three children are staying in an apartment. Across the hall in a three-bedroom apartment is a family of 10. The rent is $600 a month plus electricity.

One man who finally found an unfurnished, two-bedroom home for $600 said he feels very fortunate. One place he looked at rented for $500 a month. To move in, he said he would have been required to pay the first and last month's rent in advance and a $150 cleaning deposit.

"It was dirty, the furniture was beat up, the carpet had holes in it and the oven door was falling off," he said. "My wife said she just wouldn't live there."

He said he assumes someone moved in — the ad disappeared.

One woman is living in what she describes as a "hole in the ground." There is no running water in the tiny cabin. But she said she had to camp in her car for several weeks before she could find living quarters.

There are reports of unfinished houses renting for $1,000 a month, houses 40 miles out of town going for $400 a month. Rent increases of $90 a month are not uncommon.

And along with the increased costs of housing are increasing restrictions on tenants: No children. No pets. No single women.

And no vacancies.

Hotels and motels will rent rooms by the day only, and the cost can skyrocket to more than $1,000 a month for one room.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Can emotional tension in a pregnant woman affect the unborn child? This came up for discussion at one of our health club meetings.

Mrs. N. B. A., Kan.

Dear Mrs. A.:

It is an accepted fact that the body and mind are a single unity. Consequently, they interact with each other and affect each other in all body processes.

Recently, a group of experimental scientists have studied the relationship between anxiety and other emotional disturbances with pregnancy.

An interesting finding in experimental animals indicated that maternal anxiety during pregnancy was associated with more than normal complications.

The work done on the rhesus monkey showed that both the mother and the fetus were adversely affected by stressful circumstances.

It has long been accepted that the joys of pregnancy can be enhanced if emotional turbulence can be eliminated.

I had a painful experience with a kidney stone. Since no reason for it was ever found in all the chemical tests that were done, I am concerned that it will occur again.

Mrs. S. S., N.C.

Dear Mr. S.:

Many people have had a single experience of passing a small kidney stone. Unlike those who have recurrences of this, no reason may be determined.

The crystallization of calcium in the urine may occur after a low-grade infection or after the use of some drugs.

It has also been reported to occur in people who are subjected to unusually high temperatures in a hot climate to which they are not accustomed. The dehydration associated with this may precipitate the formation of a stone.

Can there be any connection between temporary hoarseness and the beginning of the menstrual period?

Miss G. K., Nev.

Dear Miss K.:

Throat specialists have noted that the vocal cords can sometimes be temporarily swollen before menstruation. This may be related to the tendency to accumulate fluids in the body tissues during this time.

EDITOR'S NOTE: While The Herald encourages open comments from its readers, the opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the management. Letters to the editor must be signed and should be of 300 words or less.

Dear Editor:

This 200-page report in a book form entitled Poverty in America Democracy (a Study of Social Power) was just released. The below listed topics are mentioned in this book.

1. 1.6 per cent of American Corporations control 75 per cent of all manufacturing assets, equalling 350 Billion.

2. Does our economic system nurture the seeds of its own destruction?

3. The poor and middle class citizen pays three times to sustain the power of the wealthy once in inflationary prices, once in greater proportion of income paid in taxes, and once in greater tax burdens because of the social consequences of economic decisions by private corporate enterprise.

4. Since the economy does not regulate itself as Smith assumed, and since there is a much more intimate connection between economic power and political power now than was dreamed of by the Founding Fathers, ought political institutions have greater control of the economy? Ought private enterprise be more subject to public guidance?

5. In order to move towards equality through power distribution, is it necessary to change tax laws, redistribute wealth and land, guarantee minimum income, require workers partnership in industry ownership?

6. Can a nation really have political equality if gross economic inequality is fostered?

7. "Private property does not constitute an absolute and unconditional right. No one is justified in keeping for his exclusive use what he does not need when others lack necessities." (Pope Paul VI development of peoples No 23).

8. "Economic development must be kept under the control of mankind. It must not be left to the sole judgment of a few men or groups, possessing excessive economic power, or of the political community alone, or of certain, especially powerful nations. It is proper, on the contrary, that at every level the largest possible number of people have an active share in directing that development." (Documents of Vatican II, Constitution on the church in the Modern World, No 65).

A comparison of 1974 actual expenditures and 1975 proposals, regarding food stamps plus welfare, aid to families with depending children and national defense, reveals the following.

AFDC Welfare, $5.9 Billion, $4.3 Billion;
Food Stamps, $3.0 Billion, $3.9 Billion;

Total, $8.9 Billion, $8.2 Billion;
To Federal Budget, 3.2 per cent, 2.7 per cent;

Defense, $82.9 Billion, $89.7 Billion;
The Federal Budget, 29 per cent, 29 per cent.

Tire Testing Plan Attacked

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A B.F. Goodrich Co. official says 16 million gallons of gasoline would be wasted testing tires to meet proposed federal requirements for quality labeling.

Karl O. Nygaard, a Goodrich vice president, said Tuesday in remarks prepared for a California address that he considered it clear that the total cost of the proposed labeling plan and a registration program already adopted hadn't been weighed against their benefit to consumers.

The registration program costs consumers about $111 million per year or 75 cents per tire, Nygaard said. The proposed tire quality labeling plan could add $122 million in consumer costs next year, another 75 cents per tire, he said.

NEW YORK — People ... Places

The Interior Department, which can be more whimsical than the rest of our government agencies, has come up with a mythical companion for Smokey Bear. The character's name is Johnny Horizon, who looks like a cross between those two fine Republicans Barry Goldwater and John Wayne. He wears a broadbrimmed, lived-in Stetson which, unlike Smokey's crazy hat, fits him.

Smokey has taught untold millions of American campers to douse their fires before moving on to the next arson opportunity in our national parks. (He has been sulking since learning from one group of naturalists that fires in some cases are good for our forests.) But Johnny Horizon looks full of good nature and natural vitamins as he goes about his crusade. He has no reason to sulk.

Johnny's assignment, handed to him by Secretary of Interior Rogers C. D. Morton, is a modest one: "Clean Up America for Our 200th Birthday." His clean-cut image will be tacked to trees and fences throughout the entire range of the national parks system, miniparks, and other remaining patches of earth that have somehow avoided being covered with concrete. He has sworn to "prevent litter, minimize pollution, clean up our air, water and land and use our natural resources wisely."

Good for Johnny.

A handsome handout from the Department indicates that Johnny will have solid support. He will be following guidelines laid down by President Nixon who said during his interrupted tenure:

"We must realize that each individual must take the responsibility for looking after his own home and workplace. These daily surroundings are the environment where most Americans spend most of their time. They reflect people's pride in themselves and their consideration for their communities ... Unless the people have a deep commitment to the new values and a clear understanding of the new problems, all our laws and program and spending will avail little ... The building of a better environment will require in the long term a citizenry that is both deeply concerned and fully informed."

The bulletin from the Department quotes another distinguished booster: "After looking through the Johnny Horizon '76 information kit, I found it to be a very ingenious way to call to the attention of the public the need to clean up our country." Congressman Wilbur Mills.

I find most books too easy to put down. But there is something compelling, yea even hypnotizing, about Bert Bacharach's "How to Do Almost Everything," just published in paperback form by Popular Library. Don't get the meaning of my friend's use of the word pressed to meet the expenditures will receive little solace by learning that projected costs 10 years hence will be nearly $35,000 for four years of college in a public-supported institution.

Or, if you prefer, $61,000 in a private school. It may work out that way, assuming all the inflationary factors in today's economy hold steady. But don't bet on it. Chances are good that long before a bachelor degree costs a king's ransom, some major innovations will come to the campus.

One of them already has. A compelling factor in the rapid growth of community colleges is the cost advantage they enjoy simply by omitting a large part of the overhead.

NEW YORK (AP) — The same emigration amendment to the U.S. Trade Act of 1974 that led to a rift with the Soviets might also be hampering the development of trade with the People's Republic of China.

Moreover, say some officials involved in U.S.-China trade, it might also delay settlement of a dispute involving U.S. assets of $200 million "frozen" by mainland China and more than $80 million of Chinese assets here.

Christopher Phillips, president of the National Council for U.S.-China Trade, said that in some respects an almost impossible situation is presented but that he remains hopeful.

The amendment stipulates, among other things, that certain nations cannot receive "most favored nation" status regarding tariffs or obtain U.S. government credits if they impede emigration rights of their citizens.

The Soviets viewed this amendment, sponsored by Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., as an intrusion into their domestic affairs, and there are fears the mainland Chinese might make a similar interpretation.

"The Chinese are very sensitive of limitations on their freedom," said Phillips, whose organization includes more than 250 American companies and is supported by Washington as a focal point of U.S.-Sino trade.

Until the emigration issue is faced and resolved, the Chinese will continue to receive discriminatory tariff treatment of their exports to the United States. It means their goods will sell at a competitive disadvantage.

"It's a problem," Phillips said, "because the Chinese themselves are not begging for MFN status. Officially they say it is entirely an internal matter of the U.S. government."

But in private talks, said Phillips, who prior to taking his current position held ambassadorial rank as deputy representative of the United States to the United Nations, the Chinese make their displeasure clear.

The matter isn't entirely economic either, Phillips said. "They feel it is politics, too. They resent discriminatory tariffs as not being in the context of mutually beneficial trade," a condition under which trade relations were reopened.

Said Phillips in an interview: "They consider it an unfriendly act not consistent with the Shanghai Communiqué," a joint Sino-U.S. statement of Feb. 28, 1972, setting conditions and stating position on trade renewal.

Tire Testing Plan Attacked

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A B.F. Goodrich Co. official says 16 million gallons of gasoline would be wasted testing tires to meet proposed federal requirements for quality labeling.

Karl O. Nygaard, a Goodrich vice president, said Tuesday in remarks prepared for a California address that he considered it clear that the total cost of the proposed labeling plan and a registration program already adopted hadn't been weighed against their benefit to consumers.

The registration program costs consumers about $111 million per year or 75 cents per tire, Nygaard said. The proposed tire quality labeling plan could add $122 million in consumer costs next year, another 75 cents per tire, he said.

They'll Do It Every Time

State Ranks Low In ADC Outlay

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio pays less for Aid to Dependent Children than any Great Lakes state despite demand that jumped 11 per cent in the last year, the federal government reports.

Ohio ranks 35th among all states in the rate of its payment to dependent children.

Ohio's maximum payment of $209 a month for a mother and three children falls short of Indiana's $250, Illinois $288, Pennsylvania's $349, Minnesota's $370, New York's $392, Michigan's $400 and Wisconsin's $403, the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare said.

Food, clothing, rent and utilities for all four family members are included in those totals.

In November, 1974, the Ohio Department of Public Welfare set the basic subsistence minimum needed by a family of four at $429 a month.

Robert Canary, assistant welfare director, said 552,165 Ohioans received ADC benefits in Ohio in February, up from 493,671 a year earlier. Canary said the total may jump to 600,000 by July.

Judith M. Tieman, an official of the Ohio Citizens' Council for Health and Welfare, said fiscal and political conservativeness of Ohioans may contribute to the state's welfare record.

"People just don't realize the poverty the welfare recipients are living in," she said. "A child on ADC gets $1.72 a day for his needs — food, clothing, school and his share of the rent."

"Is it enough to live on?"

One of the goals of the council, a nonprofit organization that operates statewide, is to make Ohioans realize the plight of ADC children. Approximately 70 per cent of welfare recipients are children, she said.

"If a child is to grow up healthy and productive, he needs a good nutritional base and education," she said. "No child starves to death in Ohio, but I don't think you can say no child starves."

"They're not being given the chance to break out of the poverty cycle. The major point is that children have to be helped."

"The state's priorities have never been to welfare programs or to human services."

But, Miss Tieman said that the current economic crisis which is causing more and more people to suffer, may bring about a change in the attitudes of Ohioans.

Dear Abby:

Advice For Girls In Love

DEAR ABBY: A few years ago, you had a letter in your column in the form of advice for a girl who was in love with a married man. It started with: "Never expect to see him on Sundays or holidays."

I remembered it because I had once been in love with a married man and you really hit the nail on the head.

Had I known that my own daughter would be in need of such advice I would have saved it.

I hope you can locate it, because your column is the first thing my beautiful (but dumb) 27-year-old daughter goes for in the Chicago Tribune.

Thank you.

HER MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I located it. And here it is:

"DEAR ABBY: May I give your readers the benefit of my very valuable experience? I address this to any woman who is in love with a married man:

Never expect to see him on Sundays or holidays. Never call him at home.

Don't ever expect him to take you out in public, but be prepared to entertain him at your place. He may bring a bottle or the steaks occasionally, but in actual dollars and cents, you will spend more on him than he'll spend on you.

Never depend on him in times of personal crisis.

Don't believe him when he tells you that his wife is a shrew, cold, homely, too fat (or too thin), and she hasn't slept with him in ten years.

Don't ever expect his wife to divorce him if she ever catches him. She knows that you are not his first and won't be his last. Also, she is not about to give up her social status, financial security and retirement income because of you. However her discovery will probably terminate his affair with you, so be prepared to get some new clothes, circulate, and find another man whose wife is a shrew, cold, homely, too fat (or too thin), and hasn't slept with him for ten years. Sign me . . .

HIS WIFE"

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column that a man had accidentally discovered in his friend's library some books which this friend had borrowed from him about 15 years before. It reminded me of a saying I picked up in Argentina.

Ashville Women's Civic Club Sponsors Style Show To Aid Scholarship Funds

A CHOICE FOR EVERYONE—Shown at the Style Show, sponsored by Ashville Women's Civic Club are models wearing swim wear, sport clothes, casuals, coats, long dresses and suits. Noticable was the strong return of dresses and knees showing only in a brief

Fashions for all members of the family were shown Monday night at Ashville Elementary School in a fund raising project for scholarships by Ashville Womens Civic Club.

The setting for the style show and musical entertainment was in the theme of the day "St. Patrick." Green and white panels with shamrocks scattered over them formed the backdrop centered with a heart-shaped opening where models made their entrance. The theme was carried out in the refreshments of green punch and homemade cookies served from two long tables covered with white linen cloths holding floral centerpieces and candelabra with green tapers.

Committee members for the show were Martha Brinker, Georgia Dore, Stella Morrison, Nelle Oesterle, Ethel Axe, Bettie Featheringham, Esther Pontius, Evelyn Bastian, Elizabeth Smith, Mary Knode, Lou Deal, Bev Hoover, Addie Lockard, Jo Bowers, Carol Blaney, Ann Cromley, Helen Hedges, Ruth Bowers, Marjorie Foreman, Jean Hosler, Betty Margulis, Mona Morrison, Ginny Irwin, Velma Purcell, Barbara Hopper, Jean Michelfelder and Betty Smith.

Preceding the show and between the stagings the Varsity Vocals of Teays Valley High School entertained. The Varsity Boys sang and then the Varsity Girls, all sang selections with an Irish lilt. Featured were Linda White and Cindy Beatty.

Models for the clothing from The Children's Shop, Deb Shop, The Other Place, Sharffs and Keiths Men Shop were members of the club, families and friends. The Little Leprechauns on Parade: John Blaney, Christopher Hoffsis, Kim Glitt, Brent Sherman, Ben Henson, Susie Foreman, Bobbie foreman, Chris Claypool, Julie Little, Todd Featheringham, Carol Blaney and Linda Hoffsis.

Lassies from The Other Place: Lori Stewart, Becky Peters, Tammy Shields, Donna Irwin, Cecelia Green, Vera Hill, Val Houser, Tami Trego, Susie Glitt, Cindy Lockard, Karen VonInns, Teresa Irwin and Joe Ellen Irwin.

Lassies from Sharffs Fashion: Gretchen Featheringham, Evelyn Bastian, Jo Bowers, Bev Hoover, Helen Hedges, Ginny Irwin, Mona Morrison, Lou Deal and Addie Lockard.

Lads from Keiths Mens Shop: Bob Knode, Bill Lockard, Robert Adams, Billy Lockard, Benton Hedges and P. J. Ryal. Commentating were Kathy Smith, Bernie Turner and Sue Murray.

The styles showed the great variety of clothing people of all ages have to choose from. Easy care for easy living is the goal of designers keeping in tune with the pace of the world.

At intervals during the show names were drawn for 69 door prizes donated by merchants of Ashville with also some from Circleville. Donors were Carol Franks, Bastian Cleaners, Brown Tractor and Implement, Citizens Bank, Ann's Beauty Salon, Bastian Funeral Home, Boyd's Leather Shop, Deb Shop, Ashville Bank, Dee's Dairy Bar, Flowers by Faith, The Fashionette, Ashville Grain, W. W. Fischer and Son, Harold

Blue Star Mothers Plan Celebration Of Anniversary

Blue Star Mothers Chapter 7 made plans to celebrate its 27th anniversary on May 8th, during a recent meeting and luncheon at Pickaway Arms.

Mrs. John Ankrom read a letter from Department of Ohio concerning the convention to be held May 11th-14th in Columbus.

Mrs. Albert Marshall was named to head the ways and means committee. Mrs. Robert Hettinger spoke about the Bi-centennial celebration and plans were made for the chapter to participate.

Rev. John Currens Guest Speaker For Scioto Society

The Rev. Mr. John Currens was guest speaker for the Saturday afternoon meeting of Scioto Chapel Women's Society in the home of Fannie Brooks, Route 3.

Using Easter as the theme, Mrs. Mary Besanson conducted devotions using scripture and "The Lord's Prayer." Roll call was answered by 17 members. Birthday dues were paid by Marvene Dudleson and Mrs. Walker whose birthday fell in the meeting day and members sang "Happy Birthday" to her.

Notes of thanks were read from recipients of cards, flowers and memorial contributions made by the society. Announcement was made of the Mother-Daughter banquet to be held May 7th at the Ashville Coffee Shop. Plans were finalized for the spring rummage sale to be held April 30th at the Robtown Parish House on Route 316, west of Route 104. Mabel Walker was assigned the post of advertising chairman.

A general knowledge trivia contest, conducted by Mrs. Brooks, was won by Patsy Drummond. Mildred Koch read from her collection of clippings from newspapers and magazines.

Rev. Currens used as his topic "Computerizing The World" and cited the need for world-wide repentance and a return to God's leadership in people's lives. A question and answer period was participated in and Rev. Currens ended the period by reading "The Perfect Church."

During compliment time each person drew the name of a person present and wrote a sincere compliment to them.

A dessert course was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Besanson and Mrs. Koch.

Angela Kay Jackson Feted With Party

Angela Kay Jackson celebrated her 6th birthday on March 16th. A party was given by her mother in their home at Route 1, Ashville in honor of the occasion. A Snoopy Cake, made by Mrs. Dwight Presler, and ice-cream were served.

Relatives and friends, who helped celebrate were, Tom Sampson and Kenneth, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jackson and Larry, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jackson, Teresa and Rhonda; Mr. and Mrs. Gary Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Presler, Dwight Jr. and Kevin; Danny Foreman, Mrs. David Brink, Chris and Todd; Mrs. Joe Myers and Mindy, Jackie Sampson, Teresa and Robin Norris and Lori and Heather Brink.

Games were played and gifts given to each child.

BOOK SORTING—Members of American Assn. of University Women are shown sorting about 2,100 books to be given to children in 14 schools in Circleville and throughout the county. The "Reading Is Fundamental" project is to encourage 650 children in special classes to learn to read with the incentive of owning their own books. AAUW has been aided in purchasing the books by Parent-Teacher organizations, service clubs and other organizations. Shown working in a room donated for this purpose by Mason's Furniture Store are from the left, Marsha Schneider, Elinor Flierl, Janet McIlvaine and Carol List.

LaSertoma Club Elects Officers

Circleville LaSertoma Club met in the home of Mrs. Atwood Jones, 386 Maumee Drive, for its March meeting. Guests for the evening were Mrs. William Everhart and Mrs. Art Francis. Harold Hewitt and Carson Schaeffer presented a brief film on the YMCA building program. They discussed why this expansion is needed and how it will benefit our community.

Mrs. David Rodimal was initiated into the club by Mrs. Charles Carle Jr., president.

During the business meeting, it was decided to donate to the outdoor lab at Circleville High School. The club also decided to pledge $500 to the YMCA building drive. The Bicentennial Celebration was discussed, there were various ways mentioned how the club can participate in this.

Officers elected for the 1975-76 term are as follows: Mrs. Robert Parker, president; Mrs. Larry Mets, vice president; Mrs. Harold Garrett, secretary; Mrs. Edward Bohenko, treasurer and Mrs. P. J. Ryal, parliamentarian.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Bohenko, Mrs. Carle, Mrs. Garrett, Mrs. Charles Gerhardt, Mrs. Wayne

'Art Development' Club Program

Circleville Junior Women's Club met recently at the home of Marsha Helwagen, 605 Edgewood Drive.

Willie Ehrlich and Marsha Dumm, from The Gallery on Main Street, presented a program on "Art Development" using children of different ages.

Plans have been made to have a card party beginning 8 p.m. on April 17th in the Eagles Lodge basement. Each member is asked to bring a dessert for a smorgasbord.

The home life committee reported the Easter Egg Hunt will be held March 25th for children participating in the Head Start program.

Willie Ehrlich and Donna Radcliff will attend Legislation Day on March 20th at Gallipolis.

The final business was approving a donation of $35, to aid in purchasing eyeglasses for children of needy families in Pickaway County.

Hatfield, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Larry Lewis, Mrs. Mets, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Fred Reichart, Mrs. Rodimal, Mrs. Robert Scranton, and Mrs. David Sealock.

Republican Women Plan Luncheon

Pickaway County Women's Republican Club has planned a carry-in luncheon and meeting for noon Monday at the 4-H and Grange building at the fairgrounds.

A discussion on current topics will be held. Hostesses for the afternoon are Mrs. E. William Bensch, Mrs. Jess H. Hencock and Mrs. Ethel Siegle.

For a thrifty meatless main dish for supper top a cooked vegetable casserole with corn muffin batter — homemade or from a mix. Or serve poached eggs on buttered toasted English muffins and top with a cheese sauce.

Past Matrons Meet

Mrs. Edgar Anderson of Williamsport was hostess for the recent meeting of Heber Chapter OES Past Matron's Circle in her home.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Esther Wardell. Mrs. Donald Schleich read "Origin Of The Order Of Eastern Star" as recorded in the Masonic bible.

Following a report by Mrs. Carl Hooks on sale of cutlery, members voted to give Mrs. N. K. Wright, the top saleslady, a gift of appreciation.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Anderson.

Easter Favors Made By Circle

Mrs. Cecil Andrews and Mrs. Verneal Thomas were hostesses for the Thursday evening meeting of Circle 4, Good Shepherd United Methodist Church, in the home of Mrs. Andrews, 131 Parkview Ave.

The meeting, conducted by Mrs. Andrews, was begun with prayer by Gladys Noggle, and the reading of "Christ Risen" by Mrs. Andrews. It was announced the combined circles will serve lunch for the March 27th visit of the Bloodmobile.

Devotions were by Mrs. Turney Ross using scripture from Luke, 12:20 and reading "New Brooms," "Easter Is A Time Of Many Miracles" and "Magic Medicine."

It was announced the women of Good Shepherd Church are invited to a meeting using the theme "Let Yourself Grow Up" at Emmett Chapel United Methodist Church.

For the program Mrs. Eugene Flowers used the subject "Toward An Honest Commitment." John 14:15-21 was read by Mrs. Monroe White and prayer was by Miss Maggie Mavis. Members sang "Have Thine Own Way, Lord" and after forming a friendship circle Mrs. Flowers closed the program with prayer.

During the social hour when refreshments were served by the hostesses and each member given an Easter favor, grace was said by Mrs. Eugene Siniff. The remainder of the evening was spent making Easter baskets to be taken to residents of Brown Memorial Home.

Past Matron's Circle of Heber Chapter 62, OES Williamsport, has scheduled a meeting for 8 p.m. Thursday in the Masonic building.

Mrs. Russell Wardell will present the program and Mrs. Rod Shasteen will be in charge of devotions. Mrs. Wardell and Mrs. John West will serve as co-hostesses.

Mrs. Emily Berry To Present Program

Mrs. Emily Berry will demonstrate cake decorating at the 8 p.m. Monday meeting of Ashville Junior Women's Club in the home of Mrs. Debbie Forquer, 68 Park St., Ashville.

LaSertoma Club Elects Officers

Circleville LaSertoma Club met in the home of Mrs. Atwood Jones, 386 Maumee Drive, for its March meeting. Guests for the evening were Mrs. William Everhart and Mrs. Art Francis. Harold Hewitt and Carson Schaeffer presented a brief film on the YMCA building program. They discussed why this expansion is needed and how it will benefit our community.

Mrs. David Rodimal was initiated into the club by Mrs. Charles Carle Jr., president. During the business meeting, it was decided to donate to the outdoor lab at Circleville High School. The club also decided to pledge $500 to the YMCA building drive. The Bicentennial Celebration was discussed, there were various ways mentioned how the club can participate in this.

Officers elected for the 1975-76 term are as follows: Mrs. Robert Parker, president; Mrs. Larry Mets, vice president; Mrs. Harold Garrett, secretary; Mrs. Edward Bohenko, treasurer and Mrs. P. J. Ryal, parliamentarian.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Bohenko, Mrs. Carle, Mrs. Garrett, Mrs. Charles Gerhardt, Mrs. Wayne

'Art Development' Club Program

Circleville Junior Women's Club met recently at the home of Marsha Helwage, 605 Edgewood Drive.

Willie Ehrlich and Marsha Dumm, from The Gallery on Main Street, presented a program on "Art Development" using children of different ages.

Plans have been made to have a card party beginning 8 p.m. on April 17th in the Eagles Lodge basement. Each member is asked to bring a dessert for a smorgasbord.

The home life committee reported the Easter Egg Hunt will be held March 25th for children participating in the Head Start program.

Willie Ehrlich and Donna Radcliff will attend Legislation Day on March 20th at Gallipolis.

The final business was approving a donation of $35. to aid in purchasing eyeglasses for children of needy families in Pickaway County.

Hatfield, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Larry Lewis, Mrs. Mets, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Fred Reichart, Mrs. Rodimal, Mrs. Robert Scranton, and Mrs. David Sealock.

Republican Women Plan Luncheon

Pickaway County Women's Republican Club has planned a carry-in luncheon and meeting for noon Monday at the 4-H and Grange building at the fairgrounds.

A discussion on current topics will be held. Hostesses for the afternoon are Mrs. E. William Bensch, Mrs. Jess H. Hencock and Mrs. Ethel Siegle.

For a thrifty meatless main dish for supper top a cooked vegetable casserole with corn muffin batter — homemade or from a mix. Or serve poached eggs on buttered toasted English muffins and top with a cheese sauce.

Past Matrons Meet

Mrs. Edgar Anderson of Williamsport was hostess for the recent meeting of Heber Chapter OES Past Matron's Circle in her home.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Esther Wardell. Mrs. Donald Schleich read "Origin Of The Order Of Eastern Star" as recorded in the Masonic bible.

Following a report by Mrs. Carl Hooks on sale of cutlery, members voted to give Mrs. N. K. Wright, the top saleslady, a gift of appreciation.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Anderson.

Harrison Paint Corp., manufacturers of Dutch Standard paint, announced today that effective immediately the Corporation will rebate 50 cents direct to the consumer on every gallon of its Wall Charm line of paints. The Wall Charm line includes Wall Charm Flat Latex Wall Paint, Wall Charm Acrylic Semi-Gloss, and Wall Charm Alkyd Eggshell Enamel. The announcement was made by F. C. Hoffman, vice president.

Harrison Paint markets its Dutch Standard line of paints through approximately 600 independent paint dealers throughout the Eastern half of the United States. The purchaser is requested to remove a portion of the Wall Charm label and mail it, along with validated sales receipt, directly to Harrison Paint Corp. They in turn will send 50 cents to the purchaser for each gallon purchased. The offer is good through April 30, 1975.

Jims Pay & Save is the local Dutch Standard Dealer.

Washington PTO Meets Tonight

The Washington Twp. Parent Teacher Organization will meet 7:30 p.m. today at the school. A musical program will be presented by the fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

MRS. GEORGIA SWEET, 896-2462

The community extends its sympathy to Mrs. Mary Vincent and family on the death of her father, Wilbur Curl, 77, of Columbus.

A reminder that the Derby and Five Points MYF is having a spaghetti supper on Saturday at the Derby United Methodist Church from 6 to 8:30 p.m.

Tickets are available from any MYF member or by calling 869-2701.

If anyone wishes to donate a pie or cake, please call the above number. All donations and contributions will be appreciated.

The Derby Garden Club will hold its March meeting on the 24th at the Derby United Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m. The club officers will be the hostesses.

On the sick list is Layman Hannicutt who is back to school after a bout with double pneumonia.

Bill Peterson is recuperating at home from a recent car accident.

Shirley McPherson is still a patient in Riverside Methodist Hospital for tests and observations.

Mrs. Bertah McCann is a six-week shut-in after she underwent surgery on both knees several weeks ago. She is mending but painfully. Now at home, she welcomes visitors and is very appreciative of cards and kindnesses of her friends and neighbors.

Ralph Delay, Russell Riddle, Stephen Onewehr, Lloyd Fry and Franklin Riddle were among area farmers who were guests of the Mt. Sterling Rotary Club on Tuesday evening. The event was the annual "Farmer's Night" meeting.

Mrs. Mae Delay was the recent house guest of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Onewehr of Westerville. While there, she was able to visit with Mrs. Agnes Matthaes.

On Sunday, the Southwest Community Church of the Nazarene will show a film, "Africa, Dry Edge of Disaster." The film depicts an African family and how the drouth and famine affects their lives.

Clyde Onewehr was the Sunday dinner guest of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Fry of near Mt. Sterling.

Dr. Eugene Stowe has announced the appointment of Dr. Jack Sanders as the new district superintendent of the Central Ohio District of the Church of the Nazarene.

The Thursday night meeting of the Darby PTG was attended by a capacity crowd. Grades one, two and three presented a very enjoyable musical program. The teachers and children are to be commended for their excellent performances.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Onewehr and children Clyde and Beth were Monday evening supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Onewehr of Westerville.

Congratulations to area Westfall students Ron Lybarger (Derby's paper carrier) and Jacqui Rice of Derby for being tapped as new members of the Westfall Chapter of the National Honor Society recently. Students chosen for this honor are judged on merits of character, scholarship, leadership and service.

Previously chosen members from this area who participated in the ceremony were Mary Karn and Mary Lou Musselman.

Derby Garden Club members enjoying the Dispatch Home and Garden Show included Mrs. Tex Culler and family, Mrs. Stephen Onewehr and family and Mrs. Mae Delay.

Laurelville News

By CELESTA HOY
332-3251

The United Methodist Women of the Laurel Hills church met at the church on last Thursday evening with Mrs. Ella Williams presiding. The opening prayer was given by Mrs. Norwood Jinks.

The group sang "Savior like a Shepherd Lead me". Mrs. Norman Thompson gave the lesson, the topic was "Feed my sheep". She also read a poem "Life is a journey".

Mrs. Virginia Newman read the scripture from John, 21st chapter. Mrs. Vern McFadden presented the spiritual life lesson and read two poems, "Hosanna" and "My God is no Stranger".

A silent prayer by the group closed the meeting.

Hostesses were Mrs. James Eberhart and Mrs. Melvin Garrett. Seventeen members enjoyed the refreshments and later a silent auction.

The Adelphi Methodist Youth Fellowship held their regular meeting at the church on March 11. Fifteen members were present.

The group is planning another skating party soon at the Circle D Rink. Seventy people attended the last rink party.

The youth will enjoy an Easter egg hunt and party at the church some time near Easter. They will be presenting Easter baskets to senior citizen shut-ins in Adelphi Easter week.

Thursday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hartsaugh were Miss Kathleen Smith of Circleville, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolf Ebert and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith. Their Sunday guests were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Faigley, Steve and Tim of Lancaster, Mr. and Mrs. Vic Pontious of Amanda, Mrs. Pauline Fredrick of Columbus, Miriam Starkey and Kathleen Smith of Circleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Karr visited Friday evening with his brother, John Karr and his sister, Mrs. Mary Dunkle. Both are patients in Berger hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Clark were business visitors in Athens on Thursday and also visited Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dixon.

Glenn Weaver of Route 1, Laurelville is a surgical patient in Lancaster hospital.

The United Methodist Women of the Laurel Hills church met at the church on last Thursday evening with Mrs. Ella Williams presiding. The opening prayer was given by Mrs. Norwood Jinks.

The group sang "Savior like a Shepherd Lead me". Mrs. Norman Thompson gave the lesson, the topic was "Feed my sheep". She also read a poem "Life is a journey".

Mrs. Virginia Newman read the scripture from John, 21st chapter. Mrs. Vern McFadden presented the spiritual life lesson and read two poems, "Hosanna" and "My God is no Stranger".

A silent prayer by the group closed the meeting.

Hostesses were Mrs. James Eberhart and Mrs. Melvin Garrett. Seventeen members enjoyed the refreshments and later a silent auction.

The Adelphi Methodist Youth Fellowship held their regular meeting at the church on March 11. Fifteen members were present.

The group is planning another skating party soon at the Circle D Rink. Seventy people attended the last rink party.

The youth will enjoy an Easter egg hunt and party at the church some time near Easter. They will be presenting Easter baskets to senior citizen shut-ins in Adelphi Easter week.

Thursday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hartsaugh were Miss Kathleen Smith of Circleville, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Ebert and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith. Their Sunday guests were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Faigley, Steve and Tim of Lancaster, Mr. and Mrs. Vic Pontious of Amanda, Mrs. Pauline Fredrick of Columbus, Miriam Starkey and Kathleen Smith of Circleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Karr visited Friday evening with his brother, John Karr and his sister, Mrs. Mary Dunkle. Both are patients in Berger hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Clark were business visitors in Athens on Thursday and also visited Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dixon.

Glenn Weaver of Route 1, Laurelville is a surgical patient in Lancaster hospital.

MT. PLEASANT GRANGE

Mt. Pleasant Grange met in regular session in the Grange building with worthy master Lewis Dean in charge.

A contribution was sent in behalf of a sister granger in Ross County. Also a contribution was made to the Heart Fund.

Activity chairman Mrs. Lewis Dean thanked all members who had helped both Saturdays with degree work. Mrs. Dean urged members to enter sewing and baking contests. Master Dean announced inspection of the First Degree will be held April 9 and has scheduled a practice April 1.

The April lunch committee will be Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Hatfield and Mr. and Mrs. George Mallett.

The program was prepared by Mrs. Forrest Hopkins and Mrs. Roy Rittinger. Reading were: "How to Cope With Burns" by Mrs. Roy Rittinger; "Parsley and Its Use" by Mrs. Rittinger, "Fire, the Silent Killer" by Mrs. Forrest Hopkins. The game, "St. Patrick," was won by Mrs. Dorsey Bumgarner. Other inclusions were "Easter" by Mrs. Bumgarner and "At the Cross of Jesus" by Mrs. John Moss.

DES Regulations To Be Updated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department soon will be providing farmers and feedlot operators with updated information about federal regulations on DES, the cancerlinked growth hormone used for livestock.

Federal regulations now require livestock producers to certify that DES has been withdrawn from cattle and sheep at least 14 days prior to slaughter. The certification was ordered, effective March 16, after laboratory tests last year showed some increase in the number of animal livers contaminated by DES.

Under federal rules, no trace of the chemical — diethylstilbestrol — is permitted in products intended as human food because it has caused cancer in laboratory tests. The government banned the use of DES in livestock production two years ago but a federal court reversed the order on Jan. 24, 1974, clearing the way for its use again.

Woman Celebrates 105th Birthday

NORTHFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Susie Randall, a patient at Hawthornden state hospital here, celebrates her 105th birthday today.

She is the oldest known resident of Ohio's facilities for the mentally ill, and received greetings from persons throughout northeastern Ohio and several new wigs, her birthday wish, said Pat Daltoria, volunteer coordinator for Hawthornden.

New Superintendent For State Hospital

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Barry Fireman will take over as superintendent of the 950-patient Hawthornden State Hospital April 2, the state Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation announced Wednesday.

Dr. Fireman, 31, is superintendent of Kolburne Schools, New Marlborough, Mass., treatment centers for emotionally disturbed children.

Hawthornden is located in Northfield.

The department's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service now has prepared two background reports on DES which soon will be distributed to livestock producers, the meat industry and others concerned with the chemical. One of the reasons for the information campaign, a spokesman said, is that another attempt at banning the chemical outright is expected if producers are not more careful.

Laboratory tests have shown that DES can cause cancer in laboratory animals when administered in large doses. It also has been linked with cancer in young women whose mothers had been treated with DES during pregnancy.

In a series of questions and answers on DES, the department says the 14-day withdrawal specification will assure that the chemical can be eliminated from animals before they are slaughtered. Under a previous regulation prior to the all-out ban two years ago, a seven-day withdrawal was specified.

Field investigations showed that the previous seven-day withdrawal for DES was not enough for some animals and that some were carrying DES residues for 12 days," the department said. "The longer withdrawal time of 14 days should eliminate all traces of DES."

Officials said further that producers generally are cooperating in the new certification program, including participation by livestock organizations and industry groups.

"With the controversy over the use of DES, the livestock industry is aware that if violations continue to rise, the public pressure to ban DES again will increase greatly," the department said.

Although traces of DES have been detected in cattle and sheep livers, none has been found in red meat tissues.

In 1972, the last full year of DES use before it was banned temporarily, USDA inspectors examined 5,116 livers and found DES in 104, a contamination rate of about two per cent.

Last year, the DES rate was less than three-tenths of one per cent — nine contaminated livers among 3,050 samples — but officials said violations began to increase toward the end of 1974. That brought on the certification program, the department said.

MT. PLEASANT GRANGE
Mt. Pleasant Grange met in regular session in the Grange building with worthy master Lewis Dean in charge.

A contribution was sent in behalf of a sister granger in Ross County. Also a contribution was made to the Heart Fund.

Activity chairman Mrs. Lewis Dean thanked all members who had helped both Saturdays with degree work. Mrs. Dean urged members to enter sewing and baking contests. Master Dean announced inspection of the First Degree will be held April 9 and has scheduled a practice April 1.

The April lunch committee will be Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Hatfield and Mr. and Mrs. George Mallett.

The program was prepared by Mrs. Forrest Hopkins and Mrs. Roy Rittinger. Reading were: "How to Cope With Burns" by Mrs. Roy Rittinger; "Parsley and Its Use" by Mrs. Rittinger; "Fire, the Silent Killer" by Mrs. Forrest Hopkins. The game, "St. Patrick," was won by Mrs. Dorsey Bumgarner. Other inclusions were "Easter" by Mrs. Bumgarner and "At the Cross of Jesus" by Mrs. John Moss.

DES Regulations To Be Updated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department soon will be providing farmers and feedlot operators with updated information about federal regulations on DES, the cancerlinked growth hormone used for livestock.

Federal regulations now require livestock producers to certify that DES has been withdrawn from cattle and sheep at least 14 days prior to slaughter. The certification was ordered, effective March 16, after laboratory tests last year showed some increase in the number of animal livers contaminated by DES.

Under federal rules, no trace of the chemical — diethylstilbestrol — is permitted in products intended as human food because it has caused cancer in laboratory tests. The government banned the use of DES in livestock production two years ago but a federal court reversed the order on Jan. 24, 1974, clearing the way for its use again.

Woman Celebrates 105th Birthday

NORTHFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Susie Randall, a patient at Hawthornden state hospital here, celebrates her 105th birthday today.

She is the oldest known resident of Ohio's facilities for the mentally ill, and received greetings from persons throughout northeastern Ohio and several new wigs, her birthday wish, said Pat Daltoria, volunteer coordinator for Hawthornden.

New Superintendent For State Hospital

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Barry Fireman will take over as superintendent of the 950-patient Hawthornden State Hospital April 2, the state Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation announced Wednesday.

Dr. Fireman, 31, is superintendent of Kolburne Schools, New Marlborough, Mass., treatment centers for emotionally disturbed children.

Hawthornden is located in Northfield.

The department's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service now has prepared two background reports on DES which soon will be distributed to livestock producers, the meat industry and others concerned with the chemical. One of the reasons for the information campaign, a spokesman said, is that another attempt at banning the chemical outright is expected if producers are not more careful.

Laboratory tests have shown that DES can cause cancer in laboratory animals when administered in large doses. It also has been linked with cancer in young women whose mothers had been treated with DES during pregnancy.

In a series of questions and answers on DES, the department says the 14-day withdrawal specification will assure that the chemical can be eliminated from animals before they are slaughtered. Under a previous regulation prior to the all-out ban two years ago, a seven-day withdrawal was specified.

Field investigations showed that the previous seven-day withdrawal for DES was not enough for some animals and that some were carrying DES residues for 12 days," the department said. "The longer withdrawal time of 14 days should eliminate all traces of DES."

Officials said further that producers generally are cooperating in the new certification program, including participation by livestock organizations and industry groups.

"With the controversy over the use of DES, the livestock industry is aware that if violations continue to rise, the public pressure to ban DES again will increase greatly," the department said.

Although traces of DES have been detected in cattle and sheep livers, none has been found in red meat tissues.

In 1972, the last full year of DES use before it was banned temporarily, USDA inspectors examined 5,116 livers and found DES in 104, a contamination rate of about two per cent.

Last year, the DES rate was less than three-tenths of one per cent — nine contaminated livers among 3,050 samples — but officials said violations began to increase toward the end of 1974. That brought on the certification program, the department said.

All-Ohio Class A Players Named

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It's been a glorious basketball season for Mansfield St. Peter's, one big step from a sweep of the 1975 Ohio Class A honors.

The Spartans need a pair of victories this week to win their second state tournament title to go with three other major awards.

Two of those came Wednesday when 6-foot-5 Steve Lemming was named The Associated Press Class A Ohio Player of the Year and Ron Barbo the state Coach of the Year.

The Mansfield power's first big prize was the Class A state championship in The AP's regular season poll.

Lemming led the all-state team, selected with the recommendations of a statewide panel of sports writers and broadcasters on the basis of regular season play.

Lemming, a rugged senior, averaged just under 20 points and 18 rebounds against St. Peter's schedule, considered one of the most difficult in the state for Class A schools.

Barbo turned out an 18-2 team that lost only to larger division schools. The Spartans will carry a 24-2 record against Maria Stein Marion in a state semifinal game tonight at Ohio State.

Lemming's principal competition for the No. 1 player came from fellow first teamers, 6-1 Mick Shoemaker of Bainbridge Paint Valley, 6-1 Mark Swain of Crown City Hannan Trace and 5-11 Jeff Black of Canal Winchester.

Shoemaker and Swain moved up from the 1974 second team. Black was on the third team last spring.

The eight-man first team is comprised of all seniors, except Greg Johnson, a 6-5 junior from Cincinnati Lockland.

Other first team selections included 6-2 Mike Childs of Yellow Springs, 6-5 Larry Fortner of Lorain Clearview and 6-5 Jody Hill of Windham.

On the second team were 6-foot Neal Luedy of Shadyside, 6-foot Tim Selgo of Pettisville, 5-11 Keith Harding of Cedarville, 6-1 Ken Christensen of Coal Grove, 6-4 Mike Conley of Mechanicsburg, 6-2 Clark Dupler of Sugar Grove Berne Union, 6-6 Craig Adams of Leesburg Fairfield and 6-5 Chris Hammon of Orwell Grand Valley.

Third team picks included 6-1 Tom Murphy of Marion Catholic, 6-1 Don Arnett of Beaver Eastern, 6-4 Tim Vogler of Covington, 6-1 Virgil Ward of Bettsville, 6-6 Steve Hartings of Maria Stein Marion, 6-3 Tim Steinhilber of Bucyrus Wynford, 6-foot Jeff Buckingham of Howard East Knox and 6-4 Dave Higginbotham of Kirtland.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 1975 Associated Press All-Ohio Class A high school basketball team, selected with the recommendations of a statewide panel of sports writers and broadcasters:

FIRST TEAM
Steve Lemming, Mansfield St. Peter's, 6-foot-5 Sr., 19.6 points per

Greg Cook On Block

HONOLULU (AP) — Greg Cook, once considered the quarterback of the Cincinnati Bengals' future, could be obtained through a trade — if the price is right, says Coach Paul Brown.

The 28-year-old Cook retired from football last summer, frustrated by three operations on his arm.

He has since expressed a desire to try a comeback, but not with the Bengals.

Brown, who is attending the National Football League meetings in Honolulu, confirmed Wednesday that he has been approached by a club interested in Cook's condition.

Brown said he would not name the team.

"We've invested hundreds of thousands of dollars in Greg," said Brown, "and we'd have to get something pretty good in return for him."

Rick Schmidt Leads Team

CHICAGO (AP) — Illinois' Rick Schmidt was the leading vote-getter on the Big Ten AllAcademic team announced by Commissioner Wayne Duke.

Schmidt, Illinois' top performer in a disappointing season earned a 4.23 on a 5.0 system majoring in Agriculture. He received 141 of 145 ballots cast by sports writers and broadcasters covering the Big Ten.

Steve Green of Indiana, Steve Grote of Michigan, Dan Weston of Ohio State and Dick Satterfield of Purdue also were named to the team announced Wednesday.

Based on a 6.0 scale, Satterfield had a 5.92 average in Industrial Management. On a 4.0 scale, Weston had a 3.46 in Real Estate and Finance, Green a 3.06 in Pre-Dentistry and Grote 3.00 in Education.

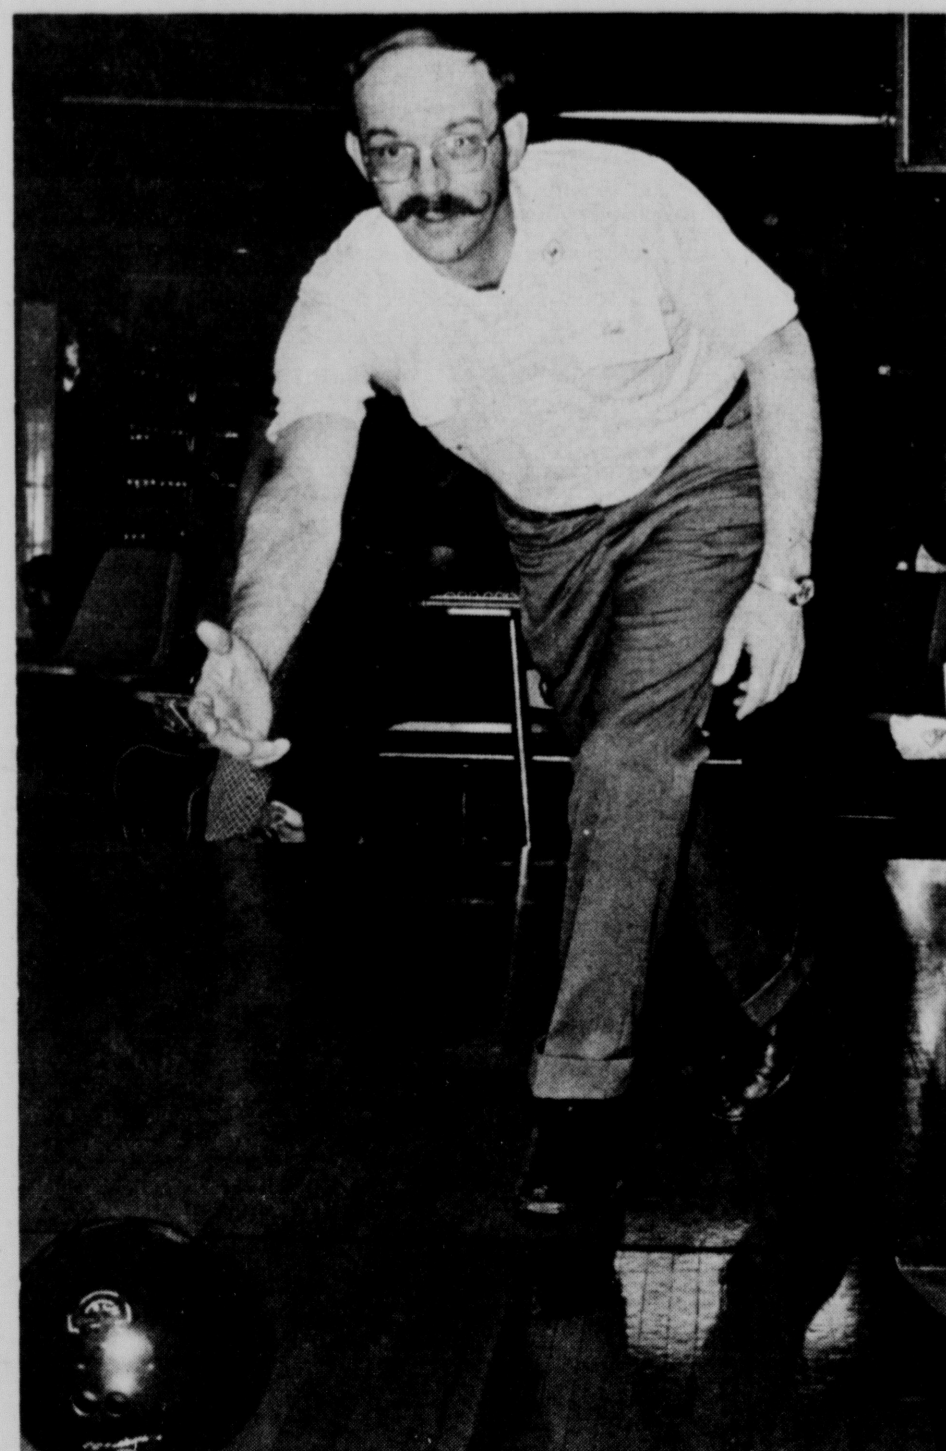

Making honorable mention were Steve Ahlfeld, Doug Allen and John Kamstra of Indiana, Pete Brey of Wisconsin, Howard Comstock of Michigan and Dave Roberts of Illinois.

Bartholomew Is 'Perfect' At Circle D Lanes Tuesday

BOB BARTHOLOMEW

Bob Bartholomew didn't think about a 300 game until the ninth frame Tuesday night. He was a little worried with a "fat" hit in the 11th, but nailed down the perfect game with a solid crumpler in the 12th to become the first bowler in three years to score a 300 at Circle D Lanes.

It was by far the best game rolled by Bartholomew, who lives at 173 East St., Ashville, in 18 years.

"I only hung two balls a little heavy in the pocket," he said, "But the rest were right in there."

The 300 game was the third in a yearly chronicle of bowling firsts for the 36-year-old Bartholomew.

Two years ago, he rolled 10 straight strikes enroute to a 288 game, his highest before Tuesday night.

And last year, he put together a 714 series for another personal mark.

The 300 game came in the Ashville K

of P Tuesday night league at Circle D where he currently maintains a 176 per-game average. He also bowls in the Late Sunday Mixed League at Circle D and has a 168 average.

The 300 started his night Tuesday and he used it to record a 634 three-game series. Other games were 178 and 156 for the "tired" bowler.

Bartholomew was the Circleville Bowling Association Doubles Champion in 1973-74.

For his effort, he will receive an engraved diamond ring and shoulder patch from the American Bowling Congress. Circle D owner Larry Dietrich also presented him with a $300 check.

Barry Fisher was the last bowler to roll a 300 at Circle D, according to Dietrich, who also was a spectator at his perfect game three years ago.

Coaches Pick North-South Teams

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio high school football and basketball all-star games may become a one-day spectacular in Columbus in the future.

The Ohio High School Basketball Coaches launched a move in that direction Wednesday night while they were selecting their players for the annual North-South all-star basketball classic in Marion this summer.

Coach John Lawhorn of the Circleville Tigers received additional honors today when he was one of the coaches selected to pilot the South squad in the annual North-South all-star basketball classic in Marion this summer.

"It would really be compatible to have the North-South football and basketball games played the same day in Columbus," said Carroll Hawhee of Waverly, the president of the state basketball coaches.

"I've talked to officials of the football coaches and they are in favor of it," Hawhee said.

The football all-star game is being moved to Ohio Stadium in June after nearly two decades in Canton. The all-star basketball game has been played in Marion for the last several years after bouncing around the state.

"Without Marion," Hawhee said, "The all-star basketball game would have been dead. My heart's with the Marion crew."

Hawhee's comments drew the blessing of Dick Brown, one of the officials of the Marion allstar game.

"Personally, I think they are doing the right thing," said Brown.

Nine first-team Associated Press all-stars were among the 15 players

Ted Bonda To Run Cleveland Indians

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—The latest executive shuffle in the Cleveland Indians' front office has Alva "Ted" Bonda holding "total authority" to run the club as president and Nick Mileti selling all but a minimal interest in the Tribe.

Bonda, who has been in charge of operations for the club since July 1973 as executive vice president, said Wednesday Mileti will continue to hold the title of general partner, heading the 42-member partnership that owns the Indians.

The New York Yankees have won 20 out of 29 World Series.

selected for the all-star basketball game Wednesday night.

The North selections were headed by 6-foot-7½ Phil Hubbard of Canton McKinley, the Ohio Class AAA Player of the Year.

Other first team all-stars named to the north team were Greg Cobb of Olmsted Falls, Fred Balser of Elyria, Dave Heck of New Philadelphia and Truman Claytor of Toledo Scott.

Other North selections included Fred Davis of Boardman and Tim Steinhilber of Bucyrus Wynford.

The Lima area still must select its all-star player.

Jack Greynolds of Barberton, Walt Harrop of Warsaw River View and Dick Kortokrax of Kalida were selected as the North's coaches by the OHSBCA's board of governors.

Crow Shooting Illegal Until August

Fred A. Schob, law enforcement supervisor for District One, Ohio Division of Wildlife, reminded all hunters that crow season is presently closed until Aug. 1.

The closed season is necessary because of recent action by the U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife placing the crow on the list of birds protected by provisions of the Migratory Bird Treaty Act, enacted in 1918 between the United States and Canada and amended in 1936 to include Mexico.

By virtue of this act, the Federal Government constructs a framework of times and dates for these protected species and submits them to all the states where these species are found. The various states can then form their season within this framework, but may not extend seasons or shooting times beyond the limits set by the federal Government.

Thus, in Ohio, the crow season was set to open Jan. 16 and close March 1. It will reopen Aug. 1 and extend through Oct. 18.

The closed season in the spring and summer protects the birds while they are selecting next sites and raising their young. The closed season in the fall and early winter protects them from wholesale slaughter when they congregate in roosts at night and also when they are coming into the roosts along established crow flight lines in late afternoons or early evenings when they all return to the roosts after the day's feeding.

All-Ohio Class A Players Named

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It's been a glorious basketball season for Mansfield St. Peter's, one big step from a sweep of the 1975 Ohio Class A honors.

The Spartans need a pair of victories this week to win their second state tournament title to go with three other major awards.

Two of those came Wednesday when 6-foot-5 Steve Lemming was named The Associated Press Class A Ohio Player of the Year and Ron Barbo the state Coach of the Year.

The Mansfield power's first big prize was the Class A state championship in The AP's regular season poll.

Lemming led the all-state team, selected with the recommendations of a statewide panel of sports writers and broadcasters on the basis of regular season play.

Lemming, a rugged senior, averaged just under 20 points and 18 rebounds against St. Peter's schedule, considered one of the most difficult in the state for Class A schools.

Barbo turned out an 18-2 team that lost only to larger division schools. The Spartans will carry a 24-2 record against Maria Stein Marion in a state semifinal game tonight at Ohio State.

Lemming's principal competition for the No. 1 player came from fellow first teamers, 6-1 Mick Shoemaker of Bainbridge Paint Valley, 6-1 Mark Swain of Crown City Hannan Trace and 5-11 Jeff Black of Canal Winchester.

Shoemaker and Swain moved up from the 1974 second team. Black was on the third team last spring.

The eight-man first team is comprised of all seniors, except Greg Johnson, a 6-5 junior from Cincinnati Lockland.

Other first team selections included 6-2 Mike Childs of Yellow Springs, 6-5 Larry Fortner of Lorain Clearview and 6-5 Jody Hill of Windham.

On the second team were 6-foot Neal Luedy of Shadyside, 6-foot Tim Selgo of Pettisville, 5-11 Keith Harding of Cedarville, 6-1 Ken Christensen of Coal Grove, 6-4 Mike Conley of Mechanicsburg, 6-2 Clark Dupler of Sugar Grove Berne Union, 6-6 Craig Adams of Leesburg Fairfield and 6-5 Chris Hammon of Orwell Grand Valley.

Third team picks included 6-1 Tom Murphy of Marion Catholic, 6-1 Don Arnett of Beaver Eastern, 6-4 Tim Vogler of Covington, 6-1 Virgil Ward of Bettsville, 6-6 Steve Hartings of Maria Stein Marion, 6-3 Tim Steinhilber of Bucyrus Wynford, 6-foot Jeff Buckingham of Howard East Knox and 6-4 Dave Higginbotham of Kirtland.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 1975 Associated Press All-Ohio Class A high school basketball team, selected with the recommendations of a statewide panel of sports writers and broadcasters:

HONOLULU (AP) — Greg Cook, once considered the quarterback of the Cincinnati Bengals' future, could be obtained through a trade — if the price is right, says Coach Paul Brown.

The 28-year-old Cook retired from football last summer, frustrated by three operations on his arm.

He has since expressed a desire to try a comeback, but not with the Bengals.

Brown, who is attending the National Football League meetings in Honolulu, confirmed Wednesday that he has been approached by a club interested in Cook's condition.

Brown said he would not name the team.

"We've invested hundreds of thousands of dollars in Greg," said Brown, "and we'd have to get something pretty good in return for him."

Rick Schmidt Leads Team

CHICAGO (AP) — Illinois' Rick Schmidt was the leading vote-getter on the Big Ten All-Academic team announced by Commissioner Wayne Duke.

Schmidt, Illinois' top performer in a disappointing season earned a 4.23 on a 5.0 system majoring in Agriculture. He received 141 of 145 ballots cast by sports writers and broadcasters covering the Big Ten.

Steve Green of Indiana, Steve Grote of Michigan, Dan Weston of Ohio State and Dick Satterfield of Purdue also were named to the team announced Wednesday.

Based on a 6.0 scale, Satterfield had a 5.92 average in Industrial Management. On a 4.0 scale, Weston had a 3.46 in Real Estate and Finance, Green a 3.06 in Pre-Dentistry and Grote 3.00 in Education.

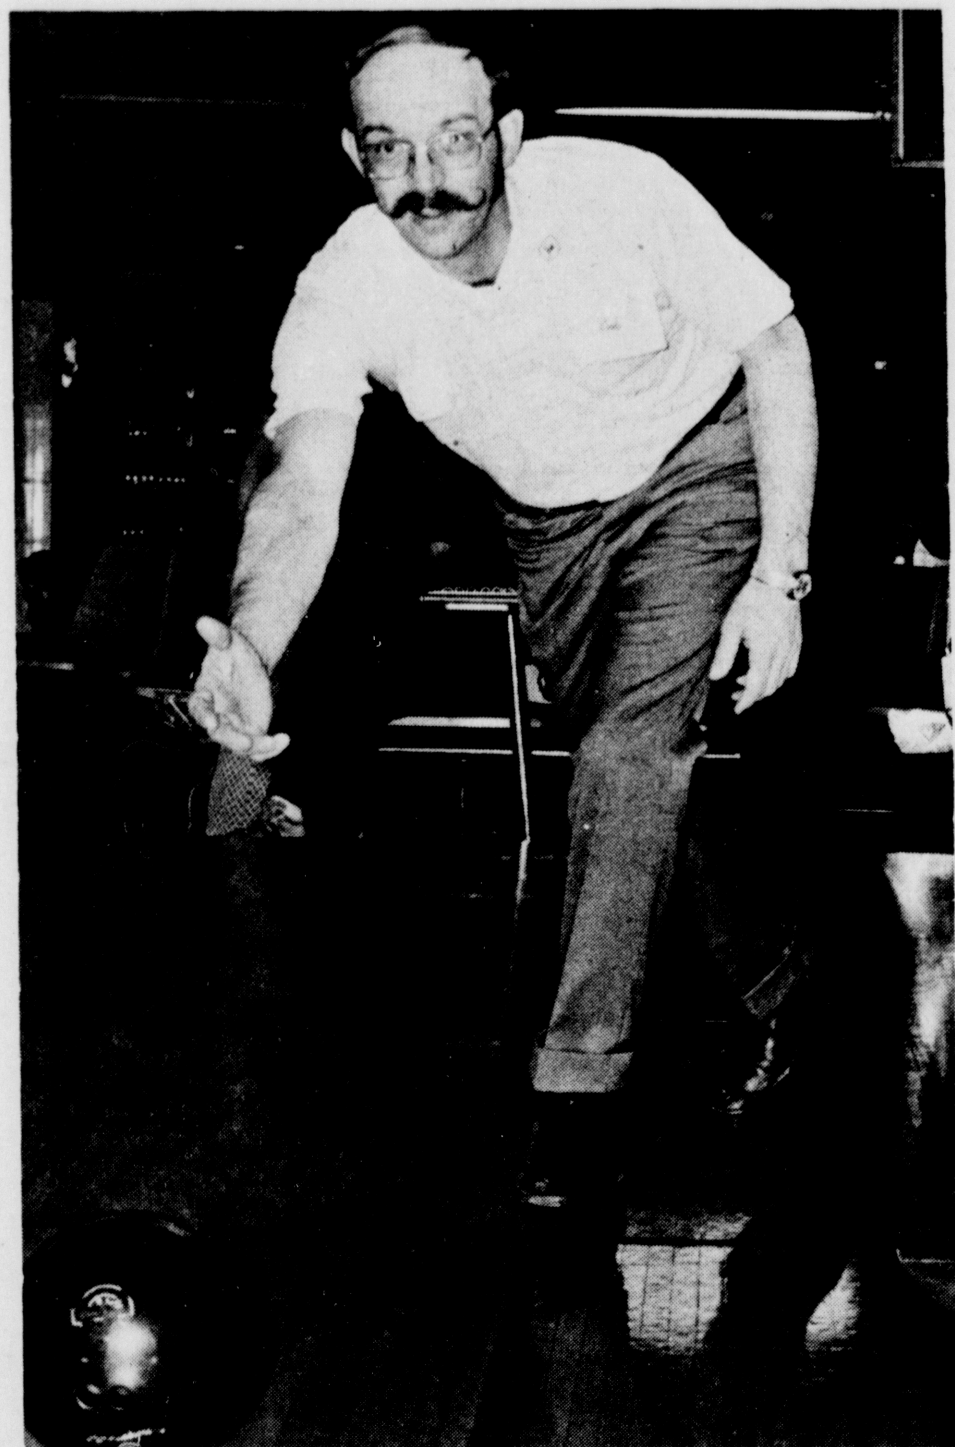

Making honorable mention were Steve Ahlfeld, Doug Allen and John Kamstra of Indiana, Pete Brey of Wisconsin, Howard Comstock of Michigan and Dave Roberts of Illinois.

Bartholomew Is 'Perfect' At Circle D Lanes Tuesday

BOB BARTHOLOMEW

Bob Bartholomew didn't think about a 300 game until the ninth frame Tuesday night. He was a little worried with a "fat" hit in the 11th, but nailed down the perfect game with a solid crumpler in the 12th to become the first bowler in three years to score a 300 at Circle D Lanes.

It was by far the best game rolled by Bartholomew, who lives at 173 East St., Ashville, in 18 years.

"I only hung two balls a little heavy in the pocket," he said, "But the rest were right in there."

The 300 game was the third in a yearly chronicle of bowling firsts for the 36-year-old Bartholomew.

Two years ago, he rolled 10 straight strikes enroute to a 288 game, his highest before Tuesday night.

And last year, he put together a 714 series for another personal mark.

The 300 game came in the Ashville K

of P Tuesday night league at Circle D where he currently maintains a 176 per-game average. He also bowls in the Late Sunday Mixed League at Circle D and has a 168 average.

The 300 started his night Tuesday and he used it to record a 634 three-game series. Other games were 178 and 156 for the "tired" bowler.

Bartholomew was the Circleville Bowling Association Doubles Champion in 1973-74.

For his effort, he will receive an engraved diamond ring and shoulder patch from the American Bowling Congress. Circle D owner Larry Dietrich also presented him with a $300 check.

Barry Fisher was the last bowler to roll a 300 at Circle D, according to Dietrich, who also was a spectator at his perfect game three years ago.

Coaches Pick North-South Teams

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio high school football and basketball all-star games may become a one-day spectacular in Columbus in the future.

The Ohio High School Basketball Coaches launched a move in that direction Wednesday night while they were selecting their players for the annual North-South all-star basketball classic in Marion this summer.

Coach John Lawhorn of the Circleville Tigers received additional honors today when he was one of the coaches selected to pilot the South squad in the annual North-South all-star basketball classic in Marion this summer.

"It would really be compatible to have the North-South football and basketball games played the same day in Columbus," said Carroll Hawhee of Waverly, the president of the state basketball coaches.

"I've talked to officials of the football coaches and they are in favor of it," Hawhee said.

The football all-star game is being moved to Ohio Stadium in June after nearly two decades in Canton. The all-star basketball game has been played in Marion for the last several years after bouncing around the state.

"Without Marion," Hawhee said, "The all-star basketball game would have been dead. My heart's with the Marion crew."

Hawhee's comments drew the blessing of Dick Brown, one of the officials of the Marion allstar game.

"Personally, I think they are doing the right thing," said Brown.

Nine first-team Associated Press all-stars were among the 15 players

Ted Bonda To Run Cleveland Indians

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—The latest executive shuffle in the Cleveland Indians' front office has Alva "Ted" Bonda holding "total authority" to run the club as president and Nick Mileti selling all but a minimal interest in the Tribe.

Bonda, who has been in charge of operations for the club since July 1973 as executive vice president, said Wednesday Mileti will continue to hold the title of general partner, heading the 42-member partnership that owns the Indians.

The New York Yankees have won 20 out of 29 World Series.

selected for the all-star basketball game Wednesday night.

The North selections were headed by 6-foot-7½ Phil Hubbard of Canton McKinley, the Ohio Class AAA Player of the Year.

Other first team all-stars named to the north team were Greg Cobb of Olmsted Falls, Fred Balser of Elyria, Dave Heck of New Philadelphia and Truman Claytor of Toledo Scott.

Other North selections included Fred Davis of Boardman and Tim Steinhilber of Bucyrus Wynford.

The Lima area still must select its all-star player.

Jack Greynolds of Barberton, Walt Harrop of Warsaw River View and Dick Kortokrax of Kalida were selected as the North's coaches by the OHSBCA's board of governors.

Crow Shooting Illegal Until August

Fred A. Schob, law enforcement supervisor for District One, Ohio Division of Wildlife, reminded all hunters that crow season is presently closed until Aug. 1.

The closed season is necessary because of recent action by the U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife placing the crow on the list of birds protected by provisions of the Migratory Bird Treaty Act, enacted in 1918 between the United States and Canada and amended in 1936 to include Mexico.

By virtue of this act, the Federal Government constructs a framework of times and dates for these protected species and submits them to all the states where these species are found. The various states can then form their season within this framework, but may not extend seasons or shooting times beyond the limits set by the federal Government.

Thus, in Ohio, the crow season was set to open Jan. 16 and close March 1. It will reopen Aug. 1 and extend through Oct. 18.

The closed season in the spring and summer protects the birds while they are selecting next sites and raising their young. The closed season in the fall and early winter protects them from wholesale slaughter when they congregate in roosts at night and also when they are coming into the roosts along established crow flight lines in late afternoons or early evenings when they all return to the roosts after the day's feeding.

Knights Favored In Class AAA Cage Clash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Joe Petrocelli forecasts no letdown for his Kettering Alter team in the Ohio high school basketball tournament after an upset of No. 1 Middletown.

"Our players are too mature for that," said the only coach the 13-year-old suburban Dayton Catholic school has had.

The Knights, the only undefeated power in the entire 12-team field, are cast as the favorites in the Class AAA semifinals starting Friday night in St. John Arena.

Their obstacle will be surprising

Columbus Linden-McKinley (16-8) at 6 p.m. The Panthers, 1967 state champions, lost six of their first nine games and wound up third in the Columbus City League.

In the other game at 9:30 p.m., title-void Canton McKinley (23-1), making its 14th semifinal appearance, battles Cleveland Heights (23-1). Heights never has reached the final four previously.

The survivors come back at 7:30 p.m. Saturday to settle the successor to 1973 and 1974 champion Cincinnati Elder.

The Class AA semifinals Friday send Warsaw River View (23-1) against Rossford (23-1) at 11 a.m. and Louisville Aquinas (16-8) against favored Dayton Stivers (15-8) at 2:30 p.m.

The Class AA title game begins at 3 p.m. Saturday. Akron Manchester won last year's crown.

Petrocelli calls his current Alter squad, led by All-Ohioan Jim Paxson, the school's best offensive squad. The Knights averaged about 85 points to 59 for opponents.

Their biggest victory, of course, was a 75-59 decision over seventime champion Middletown in the Dayton Regional last week.

Jane Davis has hit the jackpot in his first head coaching at Linden-McKinley, a team of speedsters led by 6-4 senior Napoleon Allen.

Coach Rupert of Canton McKinley dispels the Bulldogs' infamous state title jinx, saying "Our juniors (four starters) are not aware of it. They weren't even born when it started." McKinley has Phil Hubbard, whom college coaches call the best high school player in the state. The 6-7½ senior, averaging more than 26 points and 16 rebounds, was acclaimed the Ohio Class AAA Player of the year.

Cleveland Heights counts on a fullcourt pressing defense to rattle opponents. The weapon held Elyria to an 0-for-13 shooting performance in the third quarter of the Kent Regional finals.

"We never played better basketball defensively," said Coach Jim Cappelletti. "I sure hope we can maintain that."

Stivers ruled as the Class AA title choice despite its record, laced with five forfeits. The Tigers used an ineligible 11th man against Dayton Kiser, Lemon-Monroe, Dayton Roth, Dayton White and Dayton Jefferson.

The Tigers, the only team to win three straight state titles (1928-29-30), have the best one-two weapon in the field. Frankie Sanders, 6-5 Ohio Class AA Player of the Year, averaged more than 31 points and 5-10 guard Eric Sutton 22 during the season.

"I told the kids before the first game this year they could make it to Columbus," said Coach Earl Johnson of Stivers, going out of existence after this season.

Aquinas, although appearing in the basketball semifinals for the first time, is sending its fourth team to state tournaments this school year.

The Knights were second in the football playoffs and had teams in the golf and cross country meets.

Aquinas' gun is 6-5 Preston Burroughs, a senior with averages of 20 points, 17 rebounds and four blocked shots.

Joe Stalma served as an assistant coach on Rossford's 1966 state runnersup and coached the 1970 Bulldogs to another second-place finish.

"This team has more muscle than the 1966 and 1970 squads," said Stalma, whose nine-year record is 167-34.

The Bulldogs have size and speed to go with their strength. Team leaders are 6-7 Scott Spencer and 6-6 Mitch Kopystynski. Both average 17.5 points and 14 rebounds.

"They call them our twin terrors," Stalma said.

River View, a Coshocton County consolidation of six schools, has exceptional outside shooting and unleashes a nifty fast break. John Williams, a 5-11 senior with an 18-point average, makes the Black Bears hum.

The other prime River View weapon is 6-6 senior Eric Boudendorf, the team's rebounding leader and a 16-point scorer.

The Black Bears' long loss came after they had clinched the Muskingum Valley League championship.

"We went down to Philo and died on their floor," said Coach Walt Harrop.

Detroit Tigers 'Going Places'

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — "New faces going places" reads the Detroit Tigers brochure promoting season ticket sales for the 1975 baseball season.

The new faces are there, to be sure. But whether the Tigers are going places will depend on what miracles they can get from a pitching staff that was a disaster in 1974 when Detroit finished last in the American League

East. That pitching crew has not changed measurably since.

"We were playing kids at the end of the season last year and it gave us a good insight on what to expect," said Manager Ralph Houk at the opening of spring training camp. "They just went in and got the runs against teams like Baltimore. It's just that we could not hold the opponents back. We averaged five or six runs a game with kids on speed and offense.

"The weak part of the club last year was the pitching. If we didn't have Johnny Hiller, it would have been more of a disaster than it was," said Houk.

The old faces for the Tigers already have gone places: outfielder Jim Northrup, traded to Montreal, then to Baltimore; first baseman Norm Cash, released; outfielder-designated hitter Al Kaline, retired; pitcher Woody Fryman, traded to Montreal, and shortstop Ed Brinkman, traded to San Diego, then to St. Louis.

Detroit tried to trade catcher Bill Freehan and outfielder Mickey Stanley to Philadelphia, but that deal fell through.

Freehan will be back, but he will get more rest, said Houk, adding, "Sometimes the trades you don't make are the best ones."

Willie Horton, out with a knee injury half of last season, will be back in left field and Gates Brown apparently has inherited the DH job from Kaline.

Aurelio Rodriguez, a standout fielder with a weak bat, remains at third base and veteran Gary Sutherland at second.

New faces are everywhere else, headed by Ron LeFlore in centerfield, Tom Verzyer at shortstop and slugger Nate Colbert, acquired from San Diego, at first base.

Right field is up for grabs. Ben Oglivie could win the job or, more likely, rookies Leon Roberts or Dan Meyer. Rookie Art James is another possibility.

Colbert, hitting behind Horton and in front of Brown, should give the Tigers another long ball threat. LeFlore, Roberts, Oglivie and James—if he sticks—provide great speed.

Veteran pitchers Mickey Lolich and Joe Coleman must have good seasons if Detroit is to improve. They didn't produce last year. Only relief ace Hiller and rookie Vern Ruhle, in a late-season trial, did well.

Lerrin LaGow didn't develop into the starter the Tigers hoped. He needs a new pitch.

Detroit was last in the AL in pitching with a 4.16 earned run average. Lolich had a 16-21 record and 4.15 ERA, while Coleman was 14-12 and 4.32.

Tigers' General Manager Jim Campbell was seeking a good starting pitcher, but was unable to deal for one.

"I think you have to develop your own players," Houk said. "You can't make trades to win pennants."

Look for Detroit to be a contender through mid-August and then fade, fighting to finish third or fourth.

Cubs Likely To Remain Firmly In Cellar

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — It has been 30 long years since the Chicago Cubs last won a baseball pennant in the National League. How much longer the Cubs will have to go without a flag is unknown.

What appears obvious is there will be no title for the Cubs this year. In fact, they probably will not get out of the cellar in the National League East.

Jim Marshall, who took over the managerial reins from Whitey Lockman in the middle of the 1974 season after Lockman had replaced Leo Durocher in the middle of 1973, has named a new coaching staff.

The newcomers are Marv Grissom, who will handle the pitchers, Irv Noren, Jack Bloomfield and Jim Saul.

Then, too, the Cubs have picked up second baseman Manny Trillo and relief pitchers Darold Knowles and Bob Locker from the world champion Oakland A's with hopes that their winning ways will rub off on a team which lost 96 games last season.

In getting Trillo and Knowles from the A's, the Cubs unloaded the last of their superstars—Billy Williams.

With the sweet-swinging Williams gone, only low-keyed Don Kessinger remains from the 1969 club which became famous for its "September Swoon."

Oddly enough, for a club which finished last in its division and is relying on younger players for a turnaround, the Cubs appear to have a set lineup.

The outfield is set with Jose Cardenal in left, Rick Monday in center and Jerry Morales in right. Cardenal batted .293 with 13 home runs and 72 runs batted in a year ago. Monday was .294 with 20 homers and 58 RBI and Morales had a .273 average with 15 homers and a team high 82 RBI.

Kessinger, 32, will anchor the infield at shortstop and Bill Madlock, who led the club with a .313 average last season despite injuries, will be at third.

The Cubs have committed themselves to going with Trillo at second base although the 23-year-old Venezuelan reported late because of visa problems and after reaching camp suffered a pulled muscle.

Young Andy Thornton, who has the physique to become a power hitter and had 10 home runs last year while seeing spot duty, will be at first base.

Steve Swisher, with a full year of experience, is the Cubs' catcher and is expected to improve on his .214 average. He'll be backed by George Mitterwald and Dick Stelmazek, although Tim Hosley has been making a strong bid to make the squad.

Now for the pitching—which, it often is said, is the name of the game.

The Cubs' pitching not only is young and inexperienced but also very disappointing. But young pitchers have been known to turn things around and if Grissom, a rugged individual in his own days, can reach and teach, the Cubs could gain respectability.

Last year, the Cub pitching staff had an earned run average of 4.28.

The bullpen has to be stronger than a year ago with the acquisition of Knowles and Locker to help Oscar Zamora, Ray Burris, Ken Frailing and Jim Todd, who also might have a shot at a starting job.

Ali-Wepner Fight Now 6 Days Away

CLEVELAND (AP) — With their fight for the world heavyweight title drawing near, champion Muhammad Ali expressed boredom after a workout and challenger Chuck Wepner skipped training to go to the racetrack.

That's the way it was here Wednesday, six days before Ali meets Wepner at the Cleveland Coliseum.

"A fighter is like a race horse. You gotta pace yourself," said Ali, who sparred six rounds while Wepner was at nearby Thistledown watching race horses pace themselves.

Dizzy Dan Captures Lebanon Feature

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Dizzie Dan captured the $5,500 feature at Lebanon Raceway Wednesday night, taking a length and a half victory, after a sea-saw struggle.

Timed in 2:10 2-5, the winner returned $4.40, $4.00 and $2.80. Loevely Shadow paid $6.80 and $3.00 for second. The show horse was D D Lang at $2.80.

Susans Lady established an all-time track record with a $100.60 payoff for show position in another race.

Harsha Announces Clermont County Cash

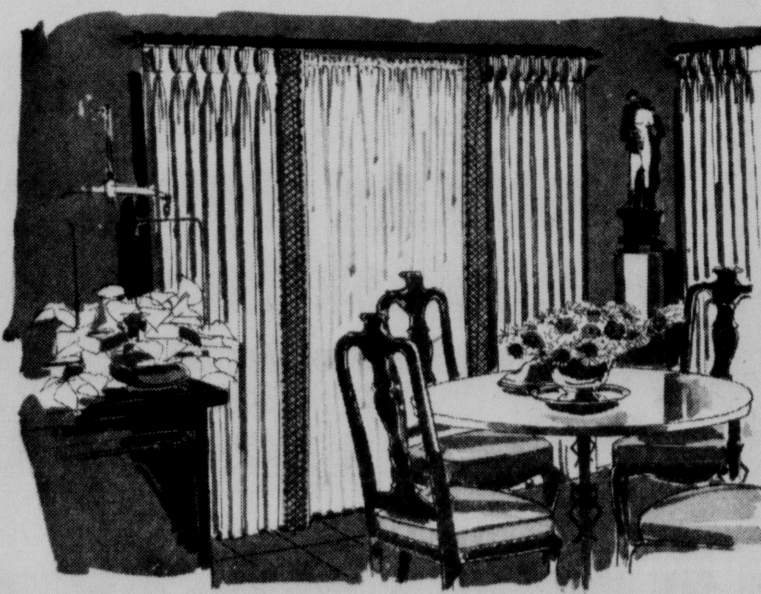

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — Rep. William H. Harsha, R-Ohio Wednesday announced a grant of $200,000 in federal economic development funds to aid in the construction of a new office building in Batavia.

The facility will be used by the Clermont County school board, the board of elections, agricultural extension service and county planning commission.

Knights Favored In Class AAA Cage Clash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Joe Petrocelli forecasts no letdown for his Kettering Alter team in the Ohio high school basketball tournament after an upset of No. 1 Middletown.

"Our players are too mature for that," said the only coach the 13-year-old suburban Dayton Catholic school has had.

The Knights, the only undefeated power in the entire 12-team field, are cast as the favorites in the Class AAA semifinals starting Friday night in St. John Arena.

Their obstacle will be surprising

Columbus Linden-McKinley (16-8) at 6 p.m. The Panthers, 1967 state champions, lost six of their first nine games and wound up third in the Columbus City League.

In the other game at 9:30 p.m., title-void Canton McKinley (23-1), making its 14th semifinal appearance, battles Cleveland Heights (23-1). Heights never has reached the final four previously.

The survivors come back at 7:30 p.m. Saturday to settle the successor to 1973 and 1974 champion Cincinnati Elder.

The Class AA semifinals Friday send Warsaw River View (23-1) against Rossford (23-1) at 11 a.m. and Louisville Aquinas (16-8) against favored Dayton Stivers (15-8) at 2:30 p.m.

The Class AA title game begins at 3 p.m. Saturday. Akron Manchester won last year's crown.

Petrocelli calls his current Alter squad, led by All-Ohioan Jim Paxson, the school's best offensive squad. The Knights averaged about 85 points to 59 for opponents.

Their biggest victory, of course, was a 75-59 decision over seventime champion Middletown in the Dayton Regional last week.

Jane Davis has hit the jackpot in his first head coaching at Linden-McKinley, a team of speedsters led by 6-4 senior Napoleon Allen.

Coach Rupert of Canton McKinley dispels the Bulldogs' infamous state title jinx, saying "Our juniors (four starters) are not aware of it. They weren't even born when it started."

McKinley has Phil Hubbard, whom college coaches call the best high school player in the state. The 6-7½ senior, averaging more than 26 points and 16 rebounds, was acclaimed the Ohio Class AAA Player of the year.

Cleveland Heights counts on a fullcourt pressing defense to rattle opponents. The weapon held Elyria to an 0-for-13 shooting performance in the third quarter of the Kent Regional finals.

"We never played better basketball defensively," said Coach Jim Capelletti. "I sure hope we can maintain that."

Stivers ruled as the Class AA title choice despite its record, laced with five forfeits. The Tigers used an ineligible 11th man against Dayton Kiser, Lemon-Monroe, Dayton Roth, Dayton White and Dayton Jefferson.

The Tigers, the only team to win three straight state titles (1928-29-30), have the best one-two weapon in the field. Frankie Sanders, 6-5 Ohio Class AA Player of the Year, averaged more than 31 points and 5-10 guard Eric Sutton 22 during the season.

"I told the kids before the first game this year they could make it to Columbus," said Coach Earl Johnson of Stivers, going out of existence after this season.

Aquinas, although appearing in the basketball semifinals for the first time, is sending its fourth team to state tournaments this school year.

The Knights were second in the football playoffs and had teams in the golf and cross country meets.

Aquinas' gun is 6-5 Preston Burroughs, a senior with averages of 20 points, 17 rebounds and four blocked shots.

Joe Stalma served as an assistant coach on Rossford's 1966 state runners-up and coached the 1970 Bulldogs to another second-place finish.

"This team has more muscle than the 1966 and 1970 squads," said Stalma, whose nine-year record is 167-34.

The Bulldogs have size and speed to go with their strength. Team leaders are 6-7 Scott Spencer and 6-6 Mitch Kopystynski. Both average 17.5 points and 14 rebounds.

"They call them our twin terrors," Stalma said.

River View, a Coshocton County consolidation of six schools, has exceptional outside shooting and unleashes a nifty fast break. John Williams, a 5-11 senior with an 18-point average, makes the Black Bears hum.

The other prime River View weapon is 6-6 senior Eric Boudendorf, the team's rebounding leader and a 16-point scorer.

The Black Bears' long loss came after they had clinched the Muskingum Valley League championship.

"We went down to Philo and died on their floor," said Coach Walt Harrop.

Detroit Tigers 'Going Places'

LAKE LAND, Fla. (AP) — "New faces going places" reads the Detroit Tigers brochure promoting season ticket sales for the 1975 baseball season.

The new faces are there, to be sure. But whether the Tigers are going places will depend on what miracles they can get from a pitching staff that was a disaster in 1974 when Detroit finished last in the American League

East.

That pitching crew has not changed measurably since.

"We were playing kids at the end of the season last year and it gave us a good insight on what to expect," said Manager Ralph Houk at the opening of spring training camp. "They just went in and got the runs against teams like Baltimore. It's just that we could not hold the opponents back. We averaged five or six runs a game with kids on speed and offense.

"The weak part of the club last year was the pitching. If we didn't have Johnny Hiller, it would have been more of a disaster than it was," said Houk.

The old faces for the Tigers already have gone places: outfielder Jim Northrup, traded to Montreal, then to Baltimore; first baseman Norm Cash, released; outfielder-designated hitter Al Kaline, retired; pitcher Woody Fryman, traded to Montreal, and shortstop Ed Brinkman, traded to San Diego, then to St. Louis.

Detroit tried to trade catcher Bill Freehan and outfielder Mickey Stanley to Philadelphia, but that deal fell through.

Freehan will be back, but he will get more rest, said Houk, adding, "Sometimes the trades you don't make are the best ones."

Willie Horton, out with a knee injury half of last season, will be back in left field and Gates Brown apparently has inherited the DH job from Kaline.

Aurelio Rodriguez, a standout fielder with a weak bat, remains at third base and veteran Gary Sutherland at second.

New faces are everywhere else, headed by Ron LeFlore in centerfield, Tom Veryzer at shortstop and slugger Nate Colbert, acquired from San Diego, at first base.

Right field is up for grabs. Ben Oglivie could win the job or, more likely, rookies Leon Roberts or Dan Meyer. Rookie Art James is another possibility.

Colbert, hitting behind Horton and in front of Brown, should give the Tigers another long ball threat. LeFlore, Roberts, Oglivie and James—if he sticks—provide great speed.

Veteran pitchers Mickey Lolich and Joe Coleman must have good seasons if Detroit is to improve. They didn't produce last year. Only relief ace Hiller and rookie Vern Ruhle, in a late-season trial, did well.

Lerrin LaGrow didn't develop into the starter the Tigers hoped. He needs a new pitch.

Detroit was last in the AL in pitching with a 4.16 earned run average. Lolich had a 16-21 record and 4.15 ERA, while Coleman was 14-12 and 4.32.

Tigers' General Manager Jim Campbell was seeking a good starting pitcher, but was unable to deal for one.

"I think you have to develop your own players," Houk said. "You can't make trades to win pennants."

Look for Detroit to be a contender through mid-August and then fade, fighting to finish third or fourth.

Cubs Likely To Remain Firmly In Cellar

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — It has been 30 long years since the Chicago Cubs last won a baseball pennant in the National League. How much longer the Cubs will have to go without a flag is unknown.

What appears obvious is there will be no title for the Cubs this year. In fact, they probably will not get out of the cellar in the National League East.

Jim Marshall, who took over the managerial reigns from Whitey Lockman in the middle of the 1974 season after Lockman had replaced Leo Durocher in the middle of 1973, has named a new coaching staff.

The newcomers are Marv Grissom, who will handle the pitchers, Irv Noren, Jack Bloomfield and Jim Saul.

Then, too, the Cubs have picked up second baseman Manny Trillo and relief pitchers Darold Knowles and Bob Locker from the world champion Oakland A's with hopes that their winning ways will rub off on a team which lost 96 games last season.

In getting Trillo and Knowles from the A's, the Cubs unloaded the last of their superstars—Billy Williams.

With the sweet-swinging Williams gone, only low-keyed Don Kessinger remains from the 1969 club which became famous for its "September Swoon."

Oddly enough, for a club which finished last in its division and is relying on younger players for a turnaround, the Cubs appear to have a set lineup.

The outfield is set with Jose Cardenal in left, Rick Monday in center and Jerry Morales in right. Cardenal batted .293 with 13 home runs and 72 runs batted in a year ago. Monday was .294 with 20 homers and 58 RBI and Morales had a .273 average with 15 homers and a team high 82 RBI.

Kessinger, 32, will anchor the infield at shortstop and Bill Madlock, who led the club with a .313 average last season despite injuries, will be at third.

The Cubs have committed themselves to going with Trillo at second base although the 23-year-old Venezuelan reported late because of visa problems and after reaching camp suffered a pulled muscle.

Young Andy Thornton, who has the physique to become a power hitter and had 10 home runs last year while seeing spot duty, will be at first base.

Steve Swisher, with a full year of experience, is the Cubs' catcher and is expected to improve on his .214 average. He'll be backed by George Mitterwald and Dick Stearns, although Tim Hosley has been making a strong bid to make the squad.

Now for the pitching—which, it often is, is the name of the game.

The Cubs' pitching not only is young and inexperienced but also very disappointing. But young pitchers have been known to turn things around and if Grissom, a rugged individual in his own days, can reach and teach, the Cubs could gain respectability.

Last year, the Cub pitching staff had an earned run average of 4.28.

The bullpen has to be stronger than a year ago with the acquisition of Knowles and Locker to help Oscar Zamora, Ray Burris, Ken Frailing and Jim Todd, who also might have a shot at a starting job.

Ali-Wepner Fight Now 6 Days Away

CLEVELAND (AP) — With their fight for the world heavyweight title drawing near, champion Muhammad Ali expressed boredom after a workout and challenger Chuck Wepner skipped training to go to the racetrack.

That's the way it was here Wednesday, six days before Ali meets Wepner at the Cleveland Coliseum.

"A fighter is like a race horse. You gotta pace yourself," said Ali, who sparred six rounds while Wepner was at nearby Thistledown watching race horses pace themselves.

Dizzy Dan Captures Lebanon Feature

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Dizzie Dan captured the $5,500 feature at Lebanon Raceway Wednesday night, taking a length and a half victory, after a see-saw struggle.

Timed in 2:10 2-5, the winner returned $4.40, $4.00 and $2.80. Loevely Shadow paid $6.80 and $3.00 for second. The show horse was D D Lang at $2.80.

Susans Lady established an all-time track record with a $100.60 payoff for show position in another race.

Harsha Announces Clermont County Cash

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — Rep. William H. Harsha, R-Ohio Wednesday announced a grant of $200,000 in federal economic development funds to aid in the construction of a new office building in Batavia.

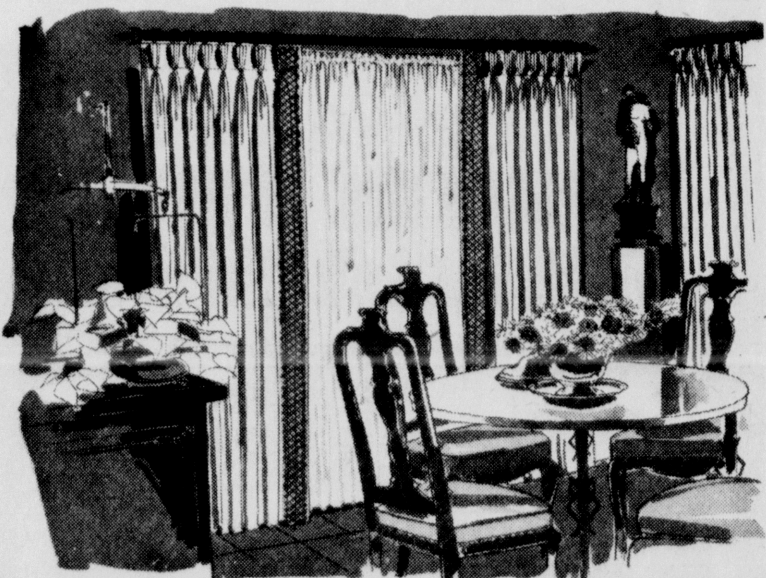

The facility will be used by the Clermont County school board, the board of elections, agricultural extension service and county planning commission.

Smith Wins State American Legion Government Contest

LEGION AWARD—Mike Mahoney, commander of Post 134 of the American Legion, presents a plaque and pen and pencil set to Brent Smith, who was one of 12 winners in the Ohio American Legion Americanism and Government Test.

Brent Smith, a 17-year-old Logan Elm High School student, joined 11 other Ohio high school seniors this morning for a tour of historic eastern states.

Smith and the other seniors were finalists in the state Americanism and Government contest sponsored by the American Legion.

Sneek-A-Peek

AT BOOKS IN THE CHILDREN'S LIBRARY

Spring means light-hearted reading — try a helping of animal stories with a sprinkling of fantasy for reading aloud.

Let's start with bunnies, named Beatrix Potter's very special bunnies. Her little books have been enjoyed for nearly 75 years now. In "The Story of a Fierce Bad Rabbit" there is a lesson about consideration for others as a hunter's gun narrowly misses the bad rabbit as he blithely munches on a stolen carrot. "Ginger and Pickles" are a dog and cat who run a little shop for the cuddliest animals in any storybook. But cute or not, they keep trying to fool the owners into thinking they will pay for their merchandise while never actually getting around to it.

"Corduroy" is a lovable department store bear whose shopworn look keeps him from finding a happy home. But one special girl sees him as the special friend she has always wanted.

"Buzzy Bear" tries to be helpful but his father's garden suffers as Buzzy pulls up plants instead of weeds and waters weeds instead of plants.

Letitia the rabbit tries some of Miss Green's magic, hoping spring will be coaxed out in "Letitia Rabbit's String Song." This delicately gentle appeal like the label on Mr. Winter's shaggy coat which declares it to be made of only "fake fur."

A terrible dragon frisks across the pages in "Dooly and the Snortsnoot" by that master of humor, Jack Kent. The giant's son Dooly just doesn't measure up to his parent's size or courage until he is forced to defend his town against the fierce snortsnoot.

Another brisk tale for spring is "The Wind Blew" in which the townspeople's belongings are carried away and returned to earth in a much changed state. Ms. Hutchins bright drawings have really caught on with her young audience.

Alf is a sorrowful donkey who tries climbing in his owner's lap so he can be stroked and loved like the family cat. In "How the Witch Got Alf" the author tenderly gets across his point that the way to happiness is doing what you do best. Steven Kellogg's special talent is drawing sad-eyed, awkward little waifs and he has great appeal for animal lovers.

In a breezy little book entitled "Can I Keep Him?" Arnold dreams of the wonderful pets he could have if only his mother didn't have so many objections. However in his dreams Arnold has many wild pets and artist Kellogg's tiger has a cute and winsome look even while eating everything and everyone in sight.

Enjoy a light treat and bring spring into your home with a colorful book.

Pay Raise Bill Pushed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A bill to hike lower paid state workers' salaries by more than $2,000 annually was introduced into the House on Wednesday by Rep. Michael Stinziano, D-30 Columbus.

The bill calls for an across-the-board $1.25 an hour raise for all state employees currently making less than $14,000 a year.

The proposed raise would be 75 cents an hour starting at the $14,000 level.

"There are those who tell us the way to stimulate the economy is to spend billions on bond issues for roads, bridges and sports arenas," Stinziano said. "The place to start spending money in Ohio is with our own employees."

Stinziano's bill has been endorsed by the 4,000-member Ohio State Government Employees union.

Kettering Citizens Vote On Income Tax

KETTERING, Ohio (AP) — Kettering citizens will vote June 3 whether to hike the city's income tax from 1 per cent to 1.75 per cent.

Last November voters turned down an issue raising the income tax to 2 per cent, but Mayor Charles F. Horn said the city still needs the money to maintain city services.

Smith Wins State American Legion Government Contest

LEGION AWARD—Mike Mahoney, commander of Post 134 of the American Legion, presents a plaque and pen and pencil set to Brent Smith, who was one of 12 winners in the Ohio American Legion Americanism and Government Test.

Brent Smith, a 17-year-old Logan Elm High School student, joined 11 other Ohio high school seniors this morning for a tour of historic eastern states.

Smith and the other seniors were finalists in the state Americanism and Government contest sponsored by the American Legion.

The 8-day trip includes tours of Washington D.C., Gettysburg, Valley Forge, and other historic sites in the east.

Smith, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Smith, Route 1, Stoutsville, was the Logan Elm winner in preliminary testing and competed against other seniors from Pickaway County high schools to win the county award given by American Legion Post 134.

He advanced from the local contest to the district event, and represented the seven Southern Ohio counties in the state contest at Ohio State University. There are 14 American Legion districts in Ohio.

In the state contest, Smith scored 99 points out of a possible 100 to score highest on the test. He knew that James Gadsden negotiated for the purchase of 30,000 square miles of land from Mexico in 1853 as the most practicable route for a southern railroad to the Pacific Ocean, but was docked a point for misspelling the man's name.

The original test, a pre-printed examination with 50 questions relating to the U.S. Government and its history, was distributed to area high school seniors by American Legion Post 134 in conjunction with the state contest.

Local Post Commander Mike Mahoney presented Smith with an engraved pen and pencil set for winning the district competition.

Smith and other county winners will be among those honored April 12 at the 57th birthday of the local American Legion post.

At Logan Elm, he serves as vice president of the Logan Elm Chapter of the National Honor Society; is on the advertisement committee of the senior class play; is a member of the scholarship team; is on the bowling team, and is a member of the Test Your Knowledge Team.

Smith is a National Merit Commended Scholar; is listed in "Who's Who Among American High School Students"; is the Logan Elm representative to the Columbus Technical Council; and was honored at the Student Science Award Banquet.

He plans to major in computer sciences at Ohio University after graduation from Logan Elm.

Sneek-A-Peek AT BOOKS IN THE CHILDREN'S LIBRARY

Spring means light-hearted reading — try a helping of animal stories with a sprinkling of fantasy for reading aloud.

Let's start with bunnies, named Beatrix Potter's very special bunnies. Her little books have been enjoyed for nearly 75 years now. In "The Story of a Fierce Bad Rabbit" there is a lesson about consideration for others as a hunter's gun narrowly misses the bad rabbit as he blithely munches on a stolen carrot. "Ginger and Pickles" are a dog and cat who run a little shop for the cuddliest animals in any storybook. But cute or not, they keep trying to fool the owners into thinking they will pay for their merchandise while never actually getting around to it.

"Corduroy" is a lovable department store bear whose shopworn look keeps him from finding a happy home. But one special girl sees him as the special friend she has always wanted.

"Buzzy Bear" tries to be helpful but his father's garden suffers as Buzzy pulls up plants instead of weeds and waters weeds instead of plants.

Letitia the rabbit tries some of Miss Green's magic, hoping spring will be coaxed out in "Letitia Rabbit's String Song." This delicately gentle appeal like the label on Mr. Winter's shaggy coat which declares it to be made of only "fake fur."

A terrible dragon frisks across the pages in "Dooly and the Snortsnoot" by that master of humor, Jack Kent. The giant's son Dooly just doesn't measure up to his parent's size or courage until he is forced to defend his town against the fierce snortsnoot.

Another brisk tale for spring is "The Wind Blew" in which the townspeople's belongings are carried away and returned to earth in a much changed state. Ms. Hutchins bright drawings have really caught on with her young audience.

Alf is a sorrowful donkey who tries climbing in his owner's lap so he can be stroked and loved like the family cat. In "How the Witch Got Alf" the author tenderly gets across his point that the way to happiness is doing what you do best. Steven Kellogg's special talent is drawing sad-eyed, awkward little waifs and he has great appeal for animal lovers.

In a breezy little book entitled "Can I Keep Him?" Arnold dreams of the wonderful pets he could have if only his mother didn't have so many objections. However in his dreams Arnold has many wild pets and artist Kellogg's tiger has a cute and winsome look even while eating everything and everyone in sight.

Enjoy a light treat and bring spring into your home with a colorful book.

Municipal Charter Provision Voided

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A municipal charter provision, described as an attempt by a Cleveland suburb to wall itself off from urban problems, was struck down Wednesday by the Ohio Supreme Court.

The court ruled 5-2 that an Eastlake charter provision requiring voter approval of all zoning decisions and land use changes violates the due process clause of the U.S. Constitution.

"Zoning provisions such as that in Eastlake's charter have a single motive, and that is to exclude, to build walls against the ills, poverty, racial strife and the people, themselves, of our urban areas," said Justice Leonard J. Stern.

The majority held the charter usurped the legislative power of the city council, resulting in "government by caprice" under the "guise of popular democracy."

The charter provision was challenged by Forest City Enterprises, which in 1971-1972 tried to build a high-rise apartment in Eastlake.

The charter provision, requiring a 55 per cent approving vote by residents before any zoning change could be made, became law during the process, as the result of an initiative petition by city voters.

Forest City was denied a construction permit based on the charter change, though its zoning had been approved by the city council. It then held an election, but failed to get the needed 55 per cent vote.

The company then challenged the charter provision in court.

"There can be little doubt of the true purpose of Eastlake's charter provision — it is to obstruct change in land use by rendering such change so burdensome as to be prohibitive," Justice Stern said.

"The charter provision was apparently adopted, specifically to prevent multi-family housing ... The restrictive purpose of the provision is crudely apparent on its face," he said.

Some zoning matters can properly be submitted to the voters, the court said. But because zoning restricts a person's right to use his land it must be closely hedged, the court said.

When such provisions result in "arbitrary and unreasonable whims of the voting public" being enforced, the court said, they are constitutional.

Rhodes To Soak Ohio Businessmen?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Republican administration of Gov. James A. Rhodes has been accused of trying to soak the businessman in order to balance the state budget.

Members of the House Ways and Means Committee said an administration bill would force some corporations to pay almost a double tax load this year so the state can get a onetime shot at some extra money.

State Tax Commissioner Gerald S. Collins, being questioned by the committee Wednesday, said the bill is an integral part of balancing Rhodes' proposed $12.2 billion budget.

The bill before the committee would accelerate the payment of corporate franchise tax, giving the state an estimated onetime gain of about $90 million.

The franchise tax is a tax on the privilege of doing business in Ohio. Under present law it is paid in a single annual payment in March.

Under the proposed bill, large corporations would pay in three equal installments over the year.

The extra burden on businessmen, and the extra income, would come this year, as businesses pay their 1975 tax in March, and the first two installments of their 1976 tax in June and September.

The effect, for 1975, would be payment of one and two-thirds of the usual annual amount.

"Right now you're forcing him to pay ahead," said Rep. Robert E. Netzeley, R-81 Laura. "When he pays in June, he's already paid through the end of 1975. And you're going to make him pay even further in the future, into 1976."

"It's certainly going to work a hardship on corporations in 1975," Netzeley said.

Rep. John E. Johnson, D-68 Orrville, noted that Rhodes has boosted tax abatements for industries, saying business needs a better tax climate in Ohio.

Yet with the bill Johnson said, Rhodes is putting an extra burden on business.

"That's a very good observation," Collins responded. "But in order to fund the continuing programs of this legislature, you have to come up with some taxes."

Collins said the bill would affect only 10,000 of the state's 70,000 corporations. The 10,000 affected pay 94 per cent of the total franchise tax.

The commissioner said the bill also would allow more efficient use of his manpower and facilities by spreading the work over the year.

Foremen Complete Program

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio — Two employees of USS Chemicals, Circleville, completed Unit III of Wittenberg University's Management Development Program Friday (March 21).

They are Charles A. Harrison, 1110 Atwater Ave., general foreman, and Terry D. Rife, 489 Edwards Road, personnel superintendent.

The series of five-day on-campus courses are designed to strengthen the management competency and provide new insights into the management functions of supervisory personnel in industry.

The courses concentrate in four areas — behavioral studies and motivation, communications and leadership, management functions and methods, and economics and personnel relations.

During the past 23 years more than 800 different companies representing a wide variety of industrial, commercial and medical concerns have released over 15,000 supervisors from their normal responsibilities and sponsored their participation in the management program.

Lottery Prizes Total $1,409,755 To Date

State Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson reported today unclaimed lottery prizes total $1,409,755 and advised ticket holders, particularly in Hardin County where no one has won a major prize, to check their tickets.

Ferguson said his office to date, has paid $4,968,175 to 2,165 major lottery prize winners.

He added that the state has appropriated another $12,720,000 for the 85 winners of $30,000 or more, who receive their winnings in annual installments of $15,000.

Of the 2,165 major prize winners: three have won $1 million; 29 have won $300,000; three have won $100,000; 17 have won $60,000; three have won $50,000; 30 have won $30,000; 130 have won $15,000; 21 have won $10,000; five have won $2,800, the equivalent of a pound of gold; 59 have won $2,000; 788 have won $1,000; 1,076 have won $500; and one has won $175, the equivalent of an ounce of gold.

Ferguson said 83 major prize winners reside out of state.

Pickaway County has had three winners; Madison, four; Hocking, three; Ross, 13; Fairfield, six; Franklin, 166; Fayette, three.

Health Directory For County Planned

A committee from the Pickaway Community Services is now updating a directory of all health and medical resources in Pickaway County. All groups, agencies, or organizations which provide health or welfare services to county residents should be included in this directory, which will be printed free by the Mid-Ohio Health Planning Federation.

All groups will then be supplied a directory for referral in community service activities. If any organization would like to be included in this directory, please contact Etha Mae Wolford at 474-5736 or Beverly Bechtel at 474-7534 for a questionnaire. The committee should be contacted by April 1.

Pythians To Host Meeting

Philos Lodge No. 64, Knights of Pythias will host the District No. 11 meeting, 8 p.m. Monday, according to David Blue, Chancellor Commander.

Lodges in the District are, Sherman No. 470, Harrisburg; Talmadge No. 194, Mt. Sterling; Jasper No. 579, Reynoldsburg; Champion-Dowdall No. 581, Columbus; Westerville No. 273, Westerville; Palmetto No. 513, Ashville; Winchester-Franklin No. 5, Canal Winchester.

Vincent B. Duncan, Xenia, Grand Chancellor of Ohio will attend the Monday meeting.

James Riley of Philos Lodge is the present District 11 Deputy Grand Chancellor.

Members of the March and April lunch committee are, Fred Howell, Doyle Spangler and Frank Woodward Jr.

A District 11 meeting of the Past Chancellors will be held April 16 at Harrisburg.

Cooper Tire Calls Some Models Back

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Cooper Tire & Rubber Co. has voluntarily recalled 159 passenger car tires manufactured last fall.

The firm said testing of the affected tires, manufactured in September and October, indicated plies could separate if the tire were over or underinflated.

Cooper said owners of the recalled tires may return them for free replacement within 60 days.

Accident Correction

It was inadvertently printed in the March 14 edition of The Herald that two passengers, in a car driven by Maxine Weiler, 53, Route 1, Ashville, which was involved in a single-car accident Thursday, were not injured.

Ms. Weiler was the only occupant in the vehicle.

The two people were witnesses in a car or cars behind the Weiler vehicle.

Lottery Prizes Total $1,409,755 To Date

State Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson reported today unclaimed lottery prizes total $1,409,755 and advised ticket holders, particularly in Hardin County where no one has won a major prize, to check their tickets.

Ferguson said his office to date, has paid $4,968,175 to 2,165 major lottery prize winners.

He added that the state has appropriated another $12,720,000 for the 85 winners of $30,000 or more, who receive their winnings in annual installments of $15,000.

Of the 2,165 major prize winners: three have won $1 million; 29 have won $300,000; three have won $100,000; 17 have won $60,000; three have won $50,000; 30 have won $30,000; 130 have won $15,000; 21 have won $10,000; five have won $2,800, the equivalent of a pound of gold; 59 have won $2,000; 788

Cooper Tire Calls Some Models Back

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Cooper Tire & Rubber Co. has voluntarily recalled 159 passenger car tires manufactured last fall.

The firm said testing of the affected tires, manufactured in September and October, indicated plies could separate if the tire were over or underinflated.

Cooper said owners of the recalled tires may return them for free replacement within 60 days.

have won $1,000; 1,076 have won $500; and one has won $175, the equivalent of an ounce of gold.

Ferguson said 83 major prize winners reside out of state.

Pickaway County has had three winners; Madison, four; Hocking, three; Ross, 13; Fairfield, six; Franklin, 166; Fayette, three.

Health Directory For County Planned

A committee from the Pickaway Community Services is now updating a directory of all health and medical resources in Pickaway County. All groups, agencies, or organizations which provide health or welfare services to county residents should be included in this directory, which will be printed free by the Mid-Ohio Health Planning Federation.

All groups will then be supplied a directory for referral in community service activities. If any organization would like to be included in this directory, please contact Etha Mae Wolford at 474-5736 or Beverly Bechtel at 474-7534 for a questionnaire. The committee should be contacted by April 1.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR FRIDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Be sure of your road now. Perhaps you should look over your program once more. A slight revision might be just "what the doctor ordered."

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Good influences! Plan your schedule early, isolate priorities quickly and tackle with new vigor. Spearhead your drive with confidence in success.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Your active mind will relish this challenging period. Creative writing, literary pursuits and educational matters should hold special interest.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): If a proposed plan is well-advised, try it, even though it is "unusual." It could just prove to be one of your more interesting challenges.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): You may have to revise some plans, change tactics. Don't go too far out on a limb, however. Stability needed.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Don't permit trifles to be blown out of proportion, distorting your innate perceptiveness and good judgment. Aim to ease tensions in close circles.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): You may feel somewhat stymied in your plans, but skies are clearing for faster advancement toward desired goals. Have patience!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): Quiet steps may be the most important ones now, but they must be steady, knowing ones, directed only toward most worthwhile objectives. Stress your innate foresight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): A day in which to tie up loose ends and make any required improvements. Don't complicate situations by acting hastily or being abrupt with others.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): There are tendencies now toward excitement, undue reaction to disappointment, altering plans needlessly. Be alert to your own moods and curb the harmful ones.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): A good day! Get out your bag of tricks and launch your pet projects — especially those having to do with creative interests and family affairs.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Much activity indicated, and excellent stellar influences favor any number of good endeavors — including new undertakings you may be planning to launch.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with one of the most vital personalities of all zodiacal natives. You have an incurable love of activity and a deep interest in all phases of life. Enthusiastic about fast-moving enterprises, you often start them yourself. You are a natural leader but are overly aggressive at times, also impulsive and so ambitious that you occasionally reach beyond your limitations. You are extremely versatile and could excel in many fields — but especially those wherein your gift of showmanship is a valuable asset. You would make an outstanding entertainer, a top-ranking journalist, a politician or statesman. If musically inclined, as you may well be, you could not only perform, but could compose — brilliantly. Curb tendencies to "talk out of turn" at times. Birthdate of: Johann S. Bach, Ger. composer.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — ABC, which since 1970 has televised pro football games on Monday nights in the fall, recently bought the rights to show baseball games on Monday nights, starting in the spring of 1976.

Is this a prelude to 52 Monday nights of sports shows on ABC?

"It could be, but it wasn't really part of our thinking when we approved the contract," said ABC sports president Boone Arledge.

"We have thought in possible terms of doing that (year-around Monday sports). But I think what is more likely to happen — at least in the near future — is kind of an 'event' night of specials, of what they call long-form TV shows, awards shows and possibly some sports events.

"It could eventually lead to year-around sports (on Monday nights) but I would think that would be a ways off."

The question came up after major league baseball officials last week said team owners had approved a four-year, $92.8 million agreement in which ABC will share TV rights to baseball with NBC.

Under the pact, NBC, scheduled to televise 15 Monday night baseball games this year, will turn over the Monday night show for the next four years to ABC, which will televise 16 games in 1976.

When ABC takes over, Howard Cosell, a star of ABC's Monday football shows, probably won't do the Monday baseball games, Arledge said. But he emphasized that it's not because Cosell has badmouthed baseball or that the baseball establishment doesn't want him at mikeside.

He said the controversial sportscaster may be tied up on other projects — including a variety series he'll start this fall — and simply won't have the time. He said baseball officials have been advised of this.

"There is no control of any kind baseball has on who we select to do the programs," Arledge added. He said ABC hasn't yet started looking for sportscasters for its baseball shows.

Under the new pact, ABC also will air the World Series — on NBC since 1947 — in 1977 and 1979 and broadcast the AllStar and the American and National League playoff games in 1976 and 1978.

NBC, which will continue its Saturday afternoon baseball series, has the World Series duty in 1976 and 1978, and will air the league playoffs in 1977 and 1979.

Is this a prelude to 52 Monday nights of sports shows on ABC?

"It could be, but it wasn't really part of our thinking when we approved the contract," said ABC sports president Boone Arledge.

"We have thought in possible terms of doing that (yeararound Monday sports). But I think what is more likely to happen — at least in the near future — is kind of an 'event' night of specials, of what they call long-form TV shows, awards shows and possibly some sports events."

"It could eventually lead to year-around sports (on Monday nights) but I would think that would be a ways off."

The question came up after major league baseball officials last week said team owners had approved a four-year, $92.8 million agreement in which ABC will share TV rights to baseball with NBC.

Under the pact, NBC, scheduled to televise 15 Monday night baseball games this year, will turn over the Monday night show for the next four years to ABC, which will televise 16 games in 1976.

When ABC takes over, Howard Cosell, a star of ABC's Monday football shows, probably won't do the Monday baseball games, Arledge said. But he emphasized that it's not because Cosell has badmouthed baseball or that the baseball establishment doesn't want him at mikside.

He said the controversial sportscaster may be tied up on other projects — including a variety series he'll start this fall — and simply won't have the time. He said baseball officials have been advised of this.

"There is no control of any kind baseball has on who we select to do the programs," Arledge added. He said ABC hasn't yet started looking for sportscasters for its baseball shows.

Under the new pact, ABC also will air the World Series — on NBC since 1947 — in 1977 and 1979 and broadcast the AllStar and the American and National League playoff games in 1976 and 1978.

NBC, which will continue its Saturday afternoon baseball series, has the World Series duty in 1976 and 1978, and will air the league playoffs in 1977 and 1979.

Consumers Turn To Soybeans

DES MOINES (AP) — The nation's farmers may someday soon be running their tractors on soybean oil.

That's the word from "Wallace Farmer," a rural publication. It says a bushel of soybeans containing about one-and-one-half gallons of soybean oil that could be used for fuel. At current prices, soybean oil would be expensive, but if fuel prices increase enough, soybean oil may become a reasonable source of fuel.

The price of diesel fuel would have to be about $4 per gallon before it would be economical to convert to soybean oil-fueled engines. But the future may soon bring a blend of petroleum oil and plant oil as fuels.

1. Card of Thanks

My sincere thanks to all my friends, relatives, neighbors and everyone for their prayers, cards and food while my husband was in the hospital and after his death. A special thanks to Bastian Funeral Home, Rev. Currys, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Welsh, Mr. Ballard, Mr. Wooten and Don Timmons.

Mrs. Frank Noggle

Words cannot express heartfelt thanks to the many friends, neighbors and relatives for the lovely flowers, cards, phone calls, the illness and death of my husband, Wayne F. Brown. Special thanks to Mrs. Joe Miller and Mr. Clark for the funeral music. Special thanks to Pastor Strauch for his consoling words, to the Warren Bastian Funeral Home.

Mrs. Wayne F. Brown and family

We wish to thank all our relatives, friends & neighbors for visits, flowers & cards sent to Mother during her stay in & out of the hospital, at the Circleville Manor for more than a year. Special thanks to Dr. Kirk, Rev. Roy Rose, Mader Funeral Home & pall bearers and want to express our sincere thanks to the neighbors for their kindness and sympathy extended to us during the illness and loss of our dear mother. All was appreciated.

FUTURE NURSES HELP—The Future Nurses Club of Teays Valley High School helped recently in the annual Easter Seal Lily Day sale for Pickaway County. Although the purpose of the Future Nurses Club is to foster interest in nursing and health careers, the students also render services to the community. The Pickaway County Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults benefitted this year from the girls' participation in the Lilly Day Sale. Five of the club members who solicited donations in Ashville are seated, Linda Egbert and Bonnie Tussing; standing, Glenda Schreiber, faculty sponsor; Bonnie Hall, Chris Voss and Trina Henson.

FBI Documents On Socialists Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Socialist Workers party was targeted for an FBI disruption campaign partly because it was running candidates for public office.

The FBI documents describing the 10-year effort provide little additional explanation and no legal or constitutional justification for 41 separate disruptive tactics against the party.

For the time being, FBI officials are declining comment, but they undoubtedly will be called to account for the agency's actions before Senate and House committees now investigating the FBI and intelligence practices.

The scope of the attack emerged from 3,138 pages of FBI documents which party officials made public Wednesday. A federal court order forced the FBI to yield the files to the party in its $27-million damage suit against the government.

The key part of the attack was a counterintelligence program, known as COINTELPRO, launched with an Oct. 12, 1961, memo from J. Edgar Hoover, then the FBI director.

"The Socialist Workers party has, over the past several years, been openly espousing its line on a local and national basis through running candidates for public office and strongly directing and/or supporting such causes as Castro's Cuba and integration problems arising in the South," the memo said.

In April 1971 another Hoover memo terminated the COINTELPRO against the Socialist Workers and other groups who had become targets in the 1950s and 1960s. But the memo said future

County To Receive Government Funds

Pickaway County will receive $12,500 and Circleville $378.75 in the distribution of $7,428,808.62 in local government fund money, according to State Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson.

The March distribution is the largest distribution of government money in the state's history.

The money is derived monthly by taking 3.5 per cent of the previous month's collections of the state income tax, state sales tax and state corporation tax.

The counties receive eleven-twelfths of the total distribution while the municipalities receive the remaining one-twelfth.

Miss Ohio To Emcee South Central Pageant

The Miss South Central Ohio Pageant will feature many talents, Friday, at 8 p.m. in the Chillicothe High School auditorium. Miss Lorrie Kapsta, Miss Ohio 1975, will perform the piano solo which won for her the grand talent award in the Miss America pageant in Atlantic City last year. Lorrie will also emcee the event which is being produced and directed by Mr. Dan Prickett.

The pageant, of which fifteen young women are contestants all competing for the title of Miss South Central Ohio, is being sponsored by Sigma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Elaborate settings and lighting will be used to complement the theme which is "In Living Color." Helping Prickett will be Clayton Stein, who is in charge of lighting and production settings of numbers and the competition.

A native of Ohio, Dan Prickett has been director and producer of numerous local pageants in Ohio and Kentucky.

He is on the state staff of the Miss Ohio pageant and serves as musical director of the Miss Ohio Pageant and is talent advisor to Miss Ohio in the Miss America pageant.

He attended the Conservatory of Music in Cincinnati and graduated from Morehead State University.

He is a professional organist and is presently the organist at St. Peters Church in Chillicothe.

He and his wife, Marjorie, who assists him in the pageant, reside at 244 Church St., in Chillicothe.

Accompanying most of the production numbers will be the Chillicothe High School Stage Orchestra, directed by John Wills, with Bobby Shoaf at the piano.

Other production numbers will include the YMCA Tumbling Turtles performing on the parallel bars, under the direction of Miss Cheryl McAfee. The CHS Cavaliers are in a precision number directed by Mrs. David Phillips. A ballet trio, Jenny Benson, Sadie Ginter and Lisa Parker, all CHS students, will appear during the evening gown competition. A special number will be presented by Mrs. Robert Shoaf, Mrs. Evelyn Ost and Mrs. John Shaw. The vocalist for the pageant will be Mike Russell.

The fifteen contestants and the talent they will perform are: Meg Burson, dancing; Cheryl Levier, vocal solo; Vickie Robinson, dancing; Lisa Wolf, comedy routine; Angela Sommers, vocal solo; Kathryn Jones, vocal solo; Cindy Wellinghoff, vocal solo; Rosemary Irwin, vocal solo; Jennifer Blanton, dancing; Debbie Vulgamore, piano solo; Sheri Smith, dancing; Gayle Morgan, piano solo; Barb Dowd, vocal solo; Barbara Souders, vocal solo; and Kathleen Ann Uland, dramatic monologue.

The young woman who is chosen Miss South Central Ohio will go on to compete in the Miss Ohio pageant and if she wins that pageant, she goes to the Miss America pageant from there.

Expenses for her trip to the Miss Ohio pageant will be paid by Sigma Chapter along with a $300 scholarship and the official Miss America crown also from Sigma Chapter.

Other awards she will receive will be a trophy from Shawnee Lanes, a bouquet of roses from Flowers by Gene, a competition gown for the state pageant from Harold's, a $100 wardrobe from Sears, an album of the pageant and portrait from James Dumm Photography and a shampoo and set from Career Beauty School, Esther's Beauty Salon, Regis Beauty

Nation's Last Day Of Winter Becomes Mostly Mild, Dry

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rain splashed over the Pacific Northwest and the Northeast today but the last day of winter was mild and dry across most of the country in between. Spring begins at 1:57 a.m. (EDT) Friday.

While rain continued through the night, it diminished in intensity both in the Northwest and the Northeast. Flash-flood warnings were canceled in upstate New York, Vermont and New Jersey but remained in effect in parts of Massachusetts and Connecticut.

Gale warnings flew along the southern New England coast and the coasts of Delaware and Maryland.

More than 2 inches of rain soaked sections of eastern Pennsylvania through Wednesday and nearly as much drenched portions of Maryland. Lighter amounts fell on areas from West Virginia to western New York.

Tornadoes or high winds dipping out of thunderstorms late Wednesday shattered some windows and overturned two campers in the Norfolk, Va., area and caused other damage at Toano, Va., and in north-central North Carolina.

Light rain persisted from Northern California through Washington and turned to snow in the mountains. Farther east, 4 inches of snow piled into Livingston, Mont.

Dense fog blanketed the extreme northern Plains, but most of the rest of the midcontinent was fair and pleasant. Several days of thawing conditions melted the snow cover in all but far Northern areas.

Temperatures again remained above freezing overnight through most of the country outside the northern Rockies and adjacent Plains. The 50s reached north almost to the Canadian border Wednesday, with the 70s extending north into Nebraska and South Dakota.

Readings before dawn ranged from 23 at Butte, Mont., and Grand Forks, N.D., to 72 at Key West, Fla.

BancOhio President Resigns Post

Philip F. Searle, president and chief executive officer of BancOhio Corporation, will resign effective April 22 that position to accept the post of chairman and chief executive officer with Flagship Banks Inc. of Florida.

Searle's election to his new position was announced at Flagship's annual stockholders' meeting held in Orlando, Fla., Tuesday. Flagship is a major 42-bank statewide Florida bank holding company.

John L. Burgoon, senior vice president and secretary of BancOhio Corporation, was elected chief executive officer of the company Wednesday to replace Searle.

BancOhio is the parent corporation for 40 Ohio banks, including the Second National Bank of Circleville.

A commercial banker for 36 years, Burgoon has held a number of key executive positions with BancOhio and its lead bank, the Ohio National Bank of Columbus. He has been a director of BancOhio since 1972.

Searle joined BancOhio as its president in 1969. During his presidency Banc Ohio Corporation continued its record of growth as Ohio's leading multi bank holding company and the total of affiliated banks increased from 22 to 40, and the number of banking offices expanded from 93 to 199. Total resources of the corporation grew from $1.3 billion to over $3 billion.

Cincy Wrestles With Religion

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati's park board is wrestling with a religious issue.

Is it legal to display a floral crucifix at a city park?

A legal interpretation is being sought to determine whether a religious symbol can be used in a project funded by the public.

Two groups challenged the use of a cross in an Easter display in 1968. Both suits were tossed out of court due to technicalities.

The park commissioners want the legal debate settled before going ahead with this year's Easter flower display in Eden Park.

FUTURE NURSES HELP—The Future Nurses Club of Teays Valley High School helped recently in the annual Easter Seal Lily Day sale for Pickaway County. Although the purpose of the Future Nurses Club is to foster interest in nursing and health careers, the students also render services to the community. The Pickaway County Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults benefitted this year from the girls' participation in the Lilly Day Sale. Five of the club members who solicited donations in Ashville are seated, Linda Egbert and Bonnie Tussing; standing, Glenda Schreiber, faculty sponsor; Bonnie Hall, Chris Voss and Trina Henson.

FBI Documents On Socialists Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Socialist Workers party was targeted for an FBI disruption campaign partly because it was running candidates for public office.

The FBI documents describing the 10-year effort provide little additional explanation and no legal or constitutional justification for 41 separate disruptive tactics against the party.

For the time being, FBI officials are declining comment, but they undoubtedly will be called to account for the agency's actions before Senate and House committees now investigating the FBI and intelligence practices.

The scope of the attack emerged from 3,138 pages of FBI documents which party officials made public Wednesday. A federal court order forced the FBI to yield the files to the party in its $27-million damage suit against the government.

The key part of the attack was a counterintelligence program, known as COINTELPRO, launched with an Oct. 12, 1961, memo from J. Edgar Hoover, then the FBI director.

"The Socialist Workers party has, over the past several years, been openly espousing its line on a local and national basis through running candidates for public office and strongly directing and/or supporting such causes as Castro's Cuba and integration problems arising in the South," the memo said.

In April 1971 another Hoover memo terminated the COINTELPRO against the Socialist Workers and other groups who had become targets in the 1950s and 1960s. But the memo said future

County To Receive Government Funds

Pickaway County will receive $12,500 and Circleville $378.75 in the distribution of $7,428,808.62 in local government fund money, according to State Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson.

The March distribution is the largest distribution of government money in the state's history.

The money is derived monthly by taking 3.5 per cent of the previous month's collections of the state income tax, state sales tax and state corporation tax.

The counties receive eleven-twelfths of the total distribution while the municipalities receive the remaining one-twelfth.
